

Higher Old-Age Pensions Now Certain For Millions

Veto-Proofed Tax-Slashing Up Wednesday

Democrats Promise Excise Levy Cuts

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Plans for providing money to remodel Percy Jones hospital to house 2,000 aged state mental patients today were snarled in legislative indecision on recessing or adjourning.

Some Republican leaders, especially in the Senate, are still holding out for recessing the legislation from time to time to prevent Governor Williams from calling the lawmakers back into session for political purposes.

In the House, which a month ago passed a resolution calling for the long recess, sentiment had swung strongly to final adjournment. Rep. Robert M. Montgomery (R-Lansing), who sponsored the recess resolution last month, said last night he now favors adjournment.

The House Republicans cautioned on the question last night, but in the light of Senate resistance, came to no decision.

Meanwhile, two proposals for financing the taking over of Percy Jones from the army hang fire. One bill calls for an appropriation of $100,000, barely enough to get the remodeling program un-

Lansing Legislators Ponder Whether To Recess Or Adjourn

Senate Passes Bill To Double Benefit Checks

Few Changes Remain To Be Ironed Out

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senate approval by 81 to 2 carried the promise of higher old-age pensions for millions of persons a long step closer to reality today.

By this thumping vote, the Senate last night passed a bill that would roughly double benefit payments under the old-age and survivors insurance system in the Federal Social Security system.

The measure is a major part of the administration program. It would add about 10,000,000 persons to the 35,000,000 now covered and would liberalize requirements for qualifying for benefits.

Some Thorny Questions

Before final action is taken by Congress, differences between the Senate bill and a similar bill passed by the House last year will have to be ironed out by a conference committee.

Many thorny questions remain to be settled. One of the sharpest issues in dispute is whether to provide for disabled persons in the social security program. The House bill would do this but not the Senate measure.

Other key differences that will have to be threshed out by the conference committee include benefit formulas, tax rates, eligibility requirements and federal contributions for public assistance (direct relief).

Even as the Senate passed the bill, with only Senators Butler (R-

Penalty On Britain Proposed If London Spurns Europe Pool

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Top-ranking Republican senators drafted a proposal today to strip $340,000,000 out of Great Britain's recovery funds unless the Labor government joins in a pool of Europe's coal and steel.

Britain's share of Marshall plan funds authorized by Congress is $685,000,000. The British labor party's executive committee has shown a marked coolness toward the pool plan, which was advanced by Foreign Minister Schuman of France, Prime Minister Atee has said the Labor government is not now ready to take part in the pool, although it is "fully prepared" to seek closer economic integration of Europe.

"We frankly want to put pressure on Britain to join the pool," one senator—who asked that he not be identified by name—said. "If we lose in the appropriations committee we'll carry our fight to the Senate floor."

Civil Rights Tiff Clouds Future Of Draft Extension

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A touchy civil rights dispute in the Senate today clouded the future of the peacetime draft act now set to expire at midnight Saturday.

There appeared to be little argument about continuation of the selective service registering of all young men from 18 through 25 years for possible emergency military service.

Instead battle lines formed over a test on President Truman's directive to end Negro segregation in the armed services.

The issue was raised through a proposal by Senator Russell (D-Ga.)—already approved by a majority of the Senate armed services committee—to give every future enlistee or draftee the right to serve in units made up only of persons "of his race."

Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) told a reporter he is confident there are enough votes "to kill this." He asked the Senate to work overtime in a night session tonight if necessary to complete action.

Lucas probably would settle for an agreement to vote sometime tomorrow.

Russell, who insists his proposal is a "true civil rights measure because it protects our traditional right of the individual to select his associates," made no claims as to final Senate action.

Lucas disagreed completely with Russell about the amendment saying "any one who is for the civil rights program will be against this."

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.), deputy GOP floor leader, agreed with Lucas saying the Russell amendment "would be a step backward."

He referred to President Truman's executive order that "there shall be equality of treatment and opportunity for all persons in the armed services without regard to race, color, religion or national origin."

Saltonstall said that all the armed services have been moving in that direction an "it is working well and making headway."

Telephone Rate Boost Opposed

LANSING—(AP)—The Democratic state administration was moving in today to block a $9,000,000 annual Michigan Bell Telephone Co. rate increase.

With the blessing of Governor Williams, attorney general Stephen J. Roth was laying plans to ask for a rehearing in the case by the state public service commission which granted the boost yesterday.

He will also seek an injunction in Ingham county circuit court preventing the company from collecting the increase until the rehearing can be heard.

The public service commission staff, after months of study, recommended that no increase be allowed the company.

The increase, approved by a two to one decision of the commission, would increase bills of 1,700,000 Michigan Bell customers by 25 to 50 cents a month for residence telephones and 50 cents to $1 a month for business telephones.

Munising Mill Told To Keep Log Bark From Munising Bay

LANSING—(AP)—The American Box Board Co. today faced a state water resources commission request to cease pollution of Manistee lake "as quickly as possible," preferably by disposal of waste on unused surrounding land.

Company officials were ordered to report on their progress at the July 26 commission meeting in Ann Arbor.

The Munising Paper Co. was ordered to provide facilities to prevent bark from logs from getting into Munising Bay.

A July 7 date was set for a hearing at Ironwood on any objections to a mine drainage diversion order against the Pickands-Mather and Oliver Iron Mining Co.

Four Saved In Boat Accident Near Kipling

Four Gladstone fishermen narrowly escaped drowning yesterday afternoon when their boatswamp in rough water about two blocks from shore near Kipling.

Rescued were Dick Stude, 17, Vic Karmil, 23, Marvin Ducheny, 34, and Jimmy Kee, 15, all of Gladstone. Today they were reported none the worse for their cold and frightening experience.

After the boat capsized Stude, halfback on the Gladstone football team last year, swam about two blocks to an island off the Kipling shore. He was nearly exhausted after the battle with the waves and cold water.

The others continued to cling to the rowboat powered with an outboard motor.

Stude called several times from the island until he attracted the attention of persons on shore.

Robert Cole, who was a tackle on the Gladstone team last year, put out in a boat and took Stude aboard.

Meanwhile two other boats set out to rescue the three fishermen holding to the swamped boat.

Emil Belkne of Ann Arbor and Joe Joslin of Green Bay, who were staying at the Louis Brock cabins, made the rescue in their boats.

Karmil, Ducheny and Kee were in the water about three-quarters of an hour and were so chilled they were beginning to have difficulty clinging to the boat when they were saved.

Bandits Lock Kroger Crew In Refrigerator, Escape With $2,500

DETROIT—(AP)—Ten employees of a Kroger company supermarket were herded into the store's refrigerator today by two bandits who escaped with $2,500 in the third Kroger holdup in 15 hours.

The 10 were released by an employee who reported to work later.

A cashier was forced to surrender $90 at knife-point at a Kroger store at 4 p. m. yesterday. A man with a pistol took $60 from another at 6 p. m. yesterday.

William Sommers, 53, was arrested for investigation in the knife holdup.

State Police Officer Fred Enius Retires

LANSING—(AP)—Sgt. Fred R. Enius, commander of the Bad Axe state police post, today retired on pension after 25 years of service.

He served at East Lansing and the former neagunee detachment before his assignment to the detective division in 1927.

Beginning in 1933 Enius served at Marquette, Newberry, and Waketield, commanding the Paw Paw South Haven posts prior to assuming direction of the Bad Axe post in 1942.

With Mrs. Enius, he plans to make his home in South Haven.

Approval Predicated

Republicans opposed the new taxes on corporations, but some conceded privately that the Democrats have the votes to get the bill through the House, Senate Democratic leader Lucas, of Illinois, said it would pass there, too.

The corporation tax payment speed-up plan was offered by Rep. Mills (D-Ark.). By a gradual process, it would require at the end of five years that corporations pay within six months of the current year all the taxes due on their previous year's income. The corporations now can pay last year's taxes in four installments during the current year.

The speed-up would crowd about $800,000,000 extra dollars in the treasury receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, and would mean various other extra dollars in the next five years. After that there would be no effect on revenues. No more money would be collected in the long-run.

Ohio Governor Democrat, But May Back Taft

By ED EASTERLY

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—A lot of Ohio's voters were in an awful state of mind today, although the November election is nearly five months away.

There as anguish, anger, delight and confusion.

This condition followed Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's unprecedented statement that he hadn't decided whom to support for U. S. Senator.

His party's nominee, Joseph T. Ferguson, or Republican Robert A. Taft.

He likes Ferguson as a state auditor, he said, but admires Taft "for his seriousness and forthrightness" as a U. S. Senator.

This political heresy, voiced by the titular leader of Ohio Democrats (who is normally expected to point the way for the party members), did this:

It caused moans of anguish among the party faithful and friends of Ferguson, state auditor for 14 years.

It stirred indignation among labor leaders depending upon Ferguson to defeat the co-author of the Taft-Hartley act.

It delighted the Republicans, who appreciate any help in their efforts to re-elect Taft Nov. 7, and it confused many of plain voters who wondered if Lausche was sincere or was just uling a political stunt.

Senate Committee Will Bear Down On Chicago Racketeers

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Senate crime investigating committee is preparing to bear down on big-time gambling and crime in Chicago and the mid-west.

A committee source told reporters the Senate inquiry will shift to the Chicago area early next month—with both public and secret hearings in Chicago and Washington.

Dope Traffic Center

Virgil Petersen, director of the Chicago crime commission, is tentatively booked as the first witness. Petersen has made a long-time study of national crime and much of the information he has assembled is in the hands of the committee.

Chicago has been named by federal officials as a center of narcotics and counterfeiting rings and gambling operations.

Before the hearings are ended, the investigation may spread out into Indiana and the surrounding territory.

Paul Cyr, Republican candidate for representative in the first Indiana district, has turned over to the committee information which he says exposes crime conditions in Lake County, Indiana.

Cyr has said he intends to use the material in his campaign for office.

Bogus Money Booms

Chicago's racketeers, however, are expected to be the main target of the Senate investigators.

Secret service chief U. E. Baughman has reported to Congress that counterfeiting is at a 10-year high—and Chicago is one of the operating centers of a gang turning out bogus money at the rate of $100,000 a month.

H. J. Anslinger, chief of the U. S. Narcotics Bureau, has pointed to Chicago as one of the biggest centers in the illicit narcotics traffic. And he has given Senate investigators the names of 800 persons who he says are involved in a crime and narcotics ring.

Chicago also is the operating headquarters for the Continental Press Service, which a Senate commerce committee report has named as the chief source of race news used by the nation's bookies.

That was the question on Hollywood's lips today as it recovered from shocking news that Judy Garland, a child star who lost none of her luster with maturity, slashed her throat in a fit of despair over her career.

Miss Garland's studio, MGM, suspended her Saturday and removed her from the cast of her latest picture after she failed to show up for a rehearsal with Fred Astaire. Monday night, during a conference about her problems with her husband and advisers, she ran into the bathroom and slashed her throat with a broken glass. Her doctor said the wound was superficial.

Some say this means the star, who has had marital and health troubles recently, too, is washed up at 28.

Others contend MGM would never cut a star whose recent films have grossed about $5,000,000 each.

One thing is certain: The "little girl with the big voice" has almost everybody's sympathy.

It's no secret that her health has suffered in recent years. Since May 1949 she has been receiving treatment for a nervous condition. In addition, she has a diet to combat a tendency toward plumpness.

Farmlands Flooded In U. S. And Canada; 5 Deaths Reported

(By The Associated Press)

Flooding rivers in northwestern United States and western Canada threatened today to sweep over thousands of more acres of farm lands.

The waters already have forced many families to evacuate their homes and have inundated wide areas of low lying crop lands.

The floods have caused five deaths.

In the Canadian province of British Columbia, hundreds of soldiers and civilians fought rising waters of the Harrison and Fraser rivers.

A flood emergency official said he feared the Harrison mills dike, about 40 miles east of Vancouver, B. C., would not hold. Workmen piled rocks, sandbags and bales of hay into an old flood gate which had been breached by the river.

Floods have taken four lives in Washington.

Menaced were 1,500 acres of low-lying farm land, the Canadian Pacific railway main line along the shores of the Fraser, and the vital Lougheed highway.

Some 40 homes in the area have been evacuated.

In northern Idaho, the Kootenai river continued its ominous rise. Three protective dikes north of Bonners Ferry were ripped out, sending water over 350 acres of farm land. Another 300 acres was flooded by seepage.

A 10-year-old child toppled in a flood water near Mission, B. C., and was drowned. It was the first fatality in the province.

Floods have taken four lives in Washington.

Tree Farm Preacher Practices Forestry

Rev. Karl J. Hammar, pastor of the Central Methodist church of Escanaba, practices what he preaches; namely, that we are stewards here on earth and that we are to use our natural resources sparingly for our children's children.

This spring, Reverend Hammar planted 4,000 Norway pines with the help of his wife on his 40 acres of land along the south bank of the Escanaba river, near Cornell. He has a cottage along this river where he fishes, hunts and relaxes. He is also very fond of young people, and his cottage is often the meeting place for young folk's outings.

Reverend Hammar has been the minister of the Central Methodist church the past 20 years and his Sunday morning sermons have been broadcast over WDCC the past 10 years.

He is the president of the Wolverine Conservation association and represented the Upper Peninsula at the first wildlife institute held in Washington, D. C., several years ago. qualified registered voters numbering not less than 1 per cent nor more than 4 per cent of the votes cast by that political party for secretary of state in the preceding November election.

The election in Michigan this year is expected to be closely watched by political observers for indications of national voting trends.

"Because the doctor has ordered that I take an extended rest due to my illness, I have decided not to run again," Ohlen said.

Primary Sept. 12
So far there have been no primary candidate announcements from either Democratic or Republican circles for Delta county officers. The primary candidates will be known, however, by July 3 when nominating petitions are filed.

All of the local county offices are held by Democrats, as they have been almost without exception since the Democratic landslide in 1932. Delta county has given majorities to Republican state and U. S. legislative candidates in recent years.

The primary election will be held Sept. 12, and the general election will be held in November.

At the primary election the voters will nominate Republican and Democratic candidates for county offices, for state senator and representative, and governor and lieutenant governor. Other state candidates will be nominated by the political parties in state convention.

National Implications
In the November election there will be elected Delta county officers, including sheriff, prosecuting attorney, clerk, treasurer, and others, a representative of Delta county in the state legislature; state senator; and governor and other state officers.

Nominating petitions for candidates in the primary election must carry the signatures of

SATISFIED CUSTOMER TELLS EXPERIENCE WITH ARTHRITIS

The following questions were asked of Mrs. Bertha Huff, 1537 Oklahoma Ave., Flint, with regards to her suffering from Rheumatism and Arthritis, and the results she obtained from using O-JIB-WA BITTERS. Her true answers are offered here for the benefit of other Rheumatism and Arthritis sufferers.

Read this for proof that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is well worth your trial.

QUESTION: What part of your system did the Arthritis and Rheumatism affect?

ANSWER: I suffered with it mostly in both knees and hips, and also had it in my arms, hands and ankles.

Q. How long did you suffer?
A. I have suffered almost continually for 10 years, but really bad during the past 5 years.

Q. Was it painful?
A. It certainly was. The pain was so bad at times that it felt like my bones were broken or crushed.

Q. How else did the Arthritis affect you?
A. It seemed like my whole body got stiff and I had to massage myself to limber up enough to get going. I got so bad it was all I could do to climb stairs, and whenever I sat down, I had to be pulled up. Because of this, I was forced to give up my job.

Q. What did you try for Arthritis?
A. Many different things, but nothing seemed to help me and I was beginning to give up hope of ever being entirely well again.

Q. What induced you to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS?
A. I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in my local paper and the wonderful results other people were getting, and decided to give it a trial.

Q. How long did you use it before seeing results?
A. It was about two weeks before saw much of a change. But then, I began to get better and gradually improved until now, I am entirely free of Rheumatism and Arthritis. I have taken only two large bottles yet all the pain and stiffness has entirely left me and I am working again.

Q. Would you recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS to other sufferers of Rheumatism and Arthritis?
A. I certainly would and often do, am very satisfied with my results from this wonderful medicine and have told many people about it. Many of them have tried it with equally good results. O-JIB-WA BITTERS not only prevented me from becoming an Arthritis cripple, but also did wonders for my stomach, which caused me such misery, but which is now 100% better. I can't speak too highly of this medicine and would urge every person who suffers with Rheumatism and Arthritis to give it a good trial.

Sam Gompers Centennial Focuses Attention Upon Labor's Progress

THE Samuel Gompers centennial celebration at the Upper Peninsula state fairgrounds next weekend, June 24-25, serves a two-fold purpose. It honors the memory of a man who nurtured the labor movement in this country and directed it for many years as the president of the American Federation of Labor. Also, it directs public attention to organized labor in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, its program, accomplishments and objectives.

The Gompers centennial committee has done an excellent job in arranging its program. A number of outstanding leaders in organized labor, including Walter Reuther, president of the UAW-CIO, and John Mullins, of Carrolltown, Pa., international president of the CIO, will be speakers. A professional stage troupe will present vaudeville entertainment and a U. P. labor queen contest will also be conducted.

The Gompers celebration has met with considerable enthusiasm in labor circles throughout the entire Upper Peninsula, as proved by the fact that 5,100 tickets were sold up to Monday morning for the fairgrounds shows.

The two-day program in Escanaba commemorating the 100th anniversary of Samuel Gompers is a worthwhile project of considerable benefit to organized labor and to the general public as well.

Gov. Lausche Places Nation Above Party

GOVERNOR FRANK J. LAUSCHE of Ohio is a Democrat, but he is first of all an American.

The outspoken Ohio governor, speaking at the annual governors' conference in West Virginia this week, stated flatly that he will vote for Senator Taft for reelection if he decides that Taft's return to the Senate will serve the nation's best interests. Further, he said that he admires Taft for his fearlessness and forthrightness as a public official, and he added that he would not allow his party interests to overcome his own interest in his country.

Gov. Lausche's attitude is not only commendable but it is likewise remarkable for a public official. He is a Democrat, and Senator Taft is a Republican, perhaps the most influential man, either Republican or Democrat, in the entire Senate. The Fair Deal Democrats under Truman are gunning for Taft's defeat in the fall election. Gov. Lausche's remarks are certain to draw considerable criticism from the politicians of his own party, but they will draw praise from citizens in general.

Gov. Lausche did not say that he will vote for Taft and whether he does or does not is his own business. He did say, however, that he will vote for the man that he decides will serve the nation's best interests and will not be influenced in that decision by party affiliation. It is a brave statement for a politician to make and particularly a Democratic politician in a Democratic national administration. Neither President Truman nor his predecessor, the late F. D. Roosevelt, ever showed any reluctance to crack the patronage whip against such political heresies as this.

MRS. VANDENBERG
(Grand Rapids Herald)

Beloved by all who know her well, fondly remembered by her most casual acquaintances, revered by strangers for her good works, Hazel Whitaker Vandenberg was a remarkable woman.

Death for the wife of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg leaves a void in many hearts but it does not end her continuing personal influence for she leaves a rich bequest of friendship an unselfish example and self-sacrificing service.

Mrs. Vandenberg was a woman of varied talents. Teacher, welfare worker, writer, adored mother, she combined many careers in a vivid lifetime of social and patriotic usefulness.

Not the least of these careers was that of wife and inspiring companion of the man who became Grand Rapids' first citizen, Michigan's senior senator, the architect of the United Nations, the man to whom the world so often listens as the voice of its hope for peace.

Yet while making a home for her famous husband, accompanying him to international conferences and discreetly sitting on the sidelines of world events, she still found the time and the energies, until her last long illness, to give her capable leadership to humanitarian organizations and at the same time to keep in close touch with her friends and the activities of her home city.

Few women have combined so many careers so successfully, few have served so many so well, few will have been so affectionately and gratefully loved and so sincerely mourned.

Low Tariffs Are Threat To American Industry

THE International Glove Workers Union in convention at Milwaukee has pointed to the most serious problem confronting the industry and its employees—the low tariff that was imposed two years ago.

Delegate after delegate at the convention called attention to the fact that since the tariff on gloves was lowered, things have been bad for the industry. The country has been flooded with gloves from Japan, Mexico, France, Malta and Puerto Rico. Labor costs in these countries are far lower than in the United States, with the inevitable result that American producers are being squeezed out of their own market. Repeated protests have been filed by the union with the United States government but to no avail.

The lower tariffs have already cost the jobs of 220 workers in the state of Wisconsin alone and four plants have been closed. Escanaba also has felt the pinch of this condition at the glove plant here.

It just is not practical for American glove manufacturers and American workers to compete with the low labor rates of such countries as Japan, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

To a degree, the American paper industry is confronted with a similar problem. Newsprint production has been all but wiped out in this country because of the lack of protection from Canadian producers and American manufacturers of other grades of paper are being subjected to constantly increasing pressures through lowered tariff rates.

Economic Weathervane Shows Fair Weather

ANOTHER business scare seems to have vanished in air. Once more the economists are flying their brightest flags; some even profess to see fair economic weather clear through 1951.

This year, of course, there's been no serious downturn in business activity like that in 1949. The biggest storm warning was the unemployment figure, which kept mounting until by February it hit better than 4,600,000.

There was talk of 5,500,000 out of work by fall, and higher totals later. The great labor federations were getting ready to demand huge public works programs to take up the slack.

Now it's all different. Unemployment has fallen to around 3,000,000. Actually, more than 2,700,000 additional workers are employed today as compared with gloomy February. But the U. S. labor force is now growing swiftly, and many of those who have found jobs are new workers.

The Federal Reserve board has just struck a cheerful note. It foresees continued demand for automobiles, homes, and the durable products that go with the home—furniture, iceboxes, stoves, and the like. If the board is right, and it has a lot of company in this forecast, the solid basis exists for maintenance of high level business activity for many months.

Does all this mean we can stop worrying about a depression? We've shrugged off so many false scares since the war ended that no one could be blamed for thinking maybe we can stay out of trouble for a long time.

And perhaps we can. Some experts point out that the foundation for much of this encouraging growth of business lies in two fundamental facts: the marked increase in population, and the still greater rise in the number of new family units.

It is this latter, especially, which helps account for the unprecedented demand for housing and household goods. New homes are being formed at an almost unbelievable pace. And the end of the upward trend is far out of sight in the future.

Yet, with all this healthy growth, we still ought to exercise reasonable caution in viewing the future. Prospects are good, yes. But we have to remember that the economic system we live by is a delicate machine with many interlocking parts. A breakdown anywhere can spread rapidly to other places.

That doesn't mean we shouldn't maintain our optimism. It simply means we should be on the watch for signs of maladjustment, should move in quickly to repair the damage before it can hobble the whole economy.

Her Violet

It was just a greening little plant your wife brought home from town, and she said it was a bargain since the dime store marked it down. When you asked her what it was, she then expressed her great surprise, that you didn't know a violet was there before your eyes. It's descent, she said, was African, as one could plainly see, and you soon found out a little plant could lots of trouble be.

Every day she fussed around with ways and means to make it grow, and she bought a book on violets and things the experts know. She would poke the dirt around its roots and for its future pray, and she fed it special rations as she tended it each day. And you didn't dare to touch that puny plant she loved so much—if you asked her how it grew, you really got yourself in Dutch.

But one day, while at the office, came a jingle of your phone, and your wife was on the line with news too happy to postpone. And you wondered, as you waited for her very urgent flash, if you'd suddenly inherited a million bucks in cash. But her news was over-rated and her joy, to you, was gloom, for her violet, she chortled, had at last produced a bloom!

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Eavesdropping is an old family pastime with Maine's Sen. Owen Brewster who, as this column revealed, tapped the telephone wires of California airplane manufacturer Howard Hughes.

More than three years ago—Feb. 18, 1947—Senator Brewster appeared before a judiciary subcommittee to oppose the appointment of John Clifford as U. S. district judge for Maine. The senator explained that Clifford came to Brewster's hotel room to discuss a local housing problem.

"He said he would come up to my hotel room and see me," Brewster continued, "I did something which I have never done before, and I do not think I will ever do again. We had two rooms at the hotel, the door opening between, and I asked Mrs. Brewster to listen to the conversation."

Since then it's been a standing joke in Maine whenever anyone mentions having a talk with Senator Brewster to ask: "And was Mrs. B. standing behind the door?"

DIOGENES PUTS DOWN LANTERN

Most congressmen are scrupulously honest about taking gratuities for introducing legislation for their constituents — unlike Congressman Wood of Georgia whose office collected $1,000 for passing a bill compensating R. A. Latham after he was crippled by a U. S. army truck.

For example, when Senator Sparkman of Alabama was still a congressman, he introduced a private bill to compensate a constituent who also had been injured by an army truck. The constituent was so grateful that he deposited $500 in the bank in Sparkman's name and sent the deposit slip to Sparkman.

This was promptly returned, however, with a courteous note, thanking the constituent but asking him to keep his money.

After Sparkman changed the deposit back to the constituent's name, the bank returned the worthless deposit slip to Sparkman. Across it was scribbled: "At last Diogenes can put down that lantern."

This referred to the Greek philosopher who carried a lighted lantern around in mid-day, searching for an honest man.

MCCARTHY'S $10,000

There may be more than meets the eye behind the $10,000 paid to Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin by the now bankrupt Lustron corporation for writing a 7,000-word booklet on housing.

It is well known that the $10,000 the Lustron people paid McCarthy was part of the RFC millions which the government advanced to Lustron. Thus, in effect, all the American taxpayers helped to subsidize the senator from Wisconsin.

But not generally known is that McCarthy had done a terrific job for the real estate lobby prior to receipt of the fee. Not only had he engaged in a tenacious, vitriolic battle against the housing bill—a battle just as tenacious as his present row over alleged Communism in government—but he also dominated the appointment of a House-Senate housing committee supposed to investigate the need for public housing.

In the closed-door battle over the appointment of this committee in October, 1947, Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, chairman of the banking and currency committee, turned up with the proxies of four senators in his pocket. All four would have voted against McCarthy.

Whereupon McCarthy moved that the committee refuse to honor proxies. Such a refusal is almost unheard of in congressional committees. However, McCarthy had a scant majority of the committee with him, and got away with it. He then obtained the appointment of New York Congressman Gamble, a foe of housing, as chairman of the housing committee, with himself as vice chairman. It was as vice chairman that McCarthy spent the taxpayers' money to tour the country studying housing, and later cashed in on that trip by getting $10,000 from the Lustron corporation.

Though McCarthy now states he sold his article to the highest bidder, actually, according to Lustron officials, McCarthy pleaded for more dough.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

Q. Please give us a comprehensive discussion of the distinction between farther and further. In a list of sentences designed to teach one to speak distinctly, I found this one: "The father walked further and further into the woods."

A. Strictly speaking, the words are neither synonymous nor interchangeable. Farther comes from far, meaning "distant," and should apply only to space or spatial measurement, as: He walked farther and farther into the woods; your house is farther from town than mine is; he lives two miles farther up the road.

Further is the comparison of forth, and should designate an advancement in time or degree, as: He will consider the matter further; we shall proceed without further delay; there are further reasons for this action.

The authorities admit that many writers do not observe this distinction, and often use further for spatial distance. On the other hand, farther is seldom used for time or degree. My own feeling is that the distinction should be preserved.

Q. A broadcaster always concludes his program with, "... and wishing you a very pleasant good afternoon." It is my contention that he is wrong.

A. The phrase means literally, "I am being very pleasant in wishing you good afternoon," which of course is not the meaning intended. If the word "good" is omitted, the phrase is quite proper in the meaning of, "I hope you spend a pleasant afternoon." But obviously one cannot spend a "pleasant good afternoon," for "good afternoon" is a form of farewell, and does not designate a time of day. "Wishing you a pleasant good afternoon," is as erroneous as "thank you kindly."

With the florists, the flowers that bloom in the spring are hyacinths, daffodils and tulips!

Millions this year will take to the highways leading toward the open spaces of America where they will find vistas of matchless beauty and inspiration. The fullest measure of health and enjoyment from these tours can be obtained by following common sense rules of safety—on the road, in selecting and using campsites, and in protecting the woodlands from fire and spoliation. Lower left, one of the many public campsites which will lure part of this year's record throng taking vacations in the outdoor wonderland of America. Lower right, the end of a glorious day in the outdoors finds the camping group within the quiet, restful walls of night before a glowing open fire. Here is one of the camper's finest moments, a fitting prelude to a night of sleep such as may be found only in the restful arms of Nature.

Remembering The Right Things Will Make That Vacation Trip More Fun

By HERBERT HOLLANDER

By the way, haven't you forgotten something?

Like tens of millions of other Americans about to start on vacation trips, it's a pretty safe bet that you have.

Remembering the right things before you go—and taking care of them—is the best way to insure a carefree vacation. And it's the only way to be certain that everything will be shipshape not only on the way but at home when you return.

For example, don't forget to let the milkman you are going to be away. That's important because a lot of bottles piled up at the door of your house or apartment are practically an invitation to housebreakers. They say in unmistakable language that there's no one home. The same goes for anything else delivered regularly.

Check your keys before locking yourself out, too. Be sure you have not only your home and car keys, preferably in duplicate, but luggage keys as well. Many a vacationer finds out a day too late that they are back home on the bureau.

Make arrangements to have your mail picked up. That's especially important if you expect checks. The Post Office Department says that losses have a way of going way up during the summer because thieves are on the watch for easy pickings as a result of failure to make some provision for mail received during vacation periods.

If traveling by automobile, be sure the tool kit is complete, especially for tire changing. Cars don't break down often and punctures are infrequent, but when they do happen on the highway proper tools are still just as essential as they were 20 years ago. It's a good idea to tuck an extra fanny pack under the seat and to put an extra set of headlights bulbs in the dash pocket. Also, a couple of extra windshield wiper blades may prove real lifesavers.

Turn Off Gas, Water

If you wear eyeglasses, be sure you have an extra pair. That's particularly important, of course, if you are dependent upon a substantial correction for reading or driving.

If you are a home owner, you'll want to be sure that the gas stove pilot light is turned out. Gas water heaters also should be turned off if you are to be away for an extended trip and it's not a bad idea to shut off the water, too.

Be sure that any food which might spoil is disposed of before leaving. Many authorities recommend that the master electric switch be thrown, too; although that should not be done, of course, if there's food in a deep freeze.

It's surprising, police tell you, how many vacationers leave their houses and apartments without closing and locking the windows. Some can't remember whether they did or didn't—and then worry about it for the rest of the trip.

The police also advise strongly against pulling down the window shades. Like the piled-up milk bottles, that's another one of those signs for which prowlers always are on the look-out. Just keep the blinds at their normal level.

In this connection, too, if the trip is to be a long one it's well to arrange to have the lawn attended to regularly. For one thing, there's nothing more discouraging than to come home and find the place practically overgrown. For another, an untended lawn is one more indication that the house is vacant.

Does some responsible person know where you have gone and where you will be and approximately when?

It's a wise precaution to leave one or more forwarding addresses either at the office or with a neighbor. There probably won't be any reason for them to get in touch with you if you are thus forewarned, but sure as sure can be, if you don't there will be.

And speaking of neighbors, if they are the true blue kind, consider leaving a house or apartment key with them.

The homeowner who is about to leave his house vacant certainly should let the police at the nearby precinct know of his plans. They'll be glad to make regular inspections—either by scout car or by the officer walking the beat—to be sure that the house and its contents are undisturbed.

No Excess Luggage

When packing for the trip, always take less rather than more. It's surprising how much useless stuff inexperienced travelers lug along, how little veteran trippers take with them.

Many a vacation has been hampered by excess luggage; and that goes whether you travel by train, car, bus, plane or boat.

Take simple clothing and take care of the changes as you go along. If you think you can't get along with less than three bags, start eliminating and get it down to two. If two at first seem a positive must, go over it all again and try to limit yourself to one.

As a general rule, the less baggage, the more fun. Of course, everyone must reach his own final judgment as to what he or she absolutely needs; but the more one travels the more it is found that a little time spent in carefully restricting one's impedimenta pays big dividends in easier, more comfortable traveling.

For long trips on which considerable funds are to be expended, travelers' checks or letters of credit are strongly urged. The former can be cashed almost anywhere and the safety which they give will add much to the ease of mind of the vacationer.

Letters From The People

Need For Probity

Mr. Truman is an expensive luxury and I am wondering if the country can still afford to accept him with equanimity. He is now making a great show of indignation over the odor raised by his decayed "red herrings." Isn't that amusing!

We need 100% Americans in Washington without equivocation. We also need old-fashioned probity. When the head of any nation makes light of morality and integrity, it is reflected all the way down the line. Machiavellian disciples have no place in our government. Has America fallen into such a state of beastlike lethargy, induced by honeyed political phraseology that it can not think for itself? Wake up, America!

Cheaper Cuts

To the Editor:

I noticed in the newspapers that shirley steaks were selling at $1.05 a pound in Chicago.

They are almost that price in Detroit. Meat prices are high, but this is in line with our Government's inflationary policy. The Government owns upwards of 130,000,000 pounds of butter to keep up the price of this commodity to the consumer. Last year it spent over $200,000,000 for potatoes, allowing most of them to rot.

A beef carcass, however, is not all steak meat, and there are many equally nutritious cuts at more reasonable prices; short ribs of beef at from 29 to 39 cents a pound and pot roasts of beef at 65 cents provide all the necessary proteins for our daily diet.

If the housewives will buy more of these cuts, prices of steaks will adjust themselves downward. May we hope the reversal of the inflationary spiral is not too far distant.

Good Evening . . .

HISTORY IN ACTION—So many people have come to accept history as dusty and uninteresting that the work of the Delta County Historical Society surprises them.

The collection of information on the history of Delta county communities has, through the efforts of the local Historical Society, become a lively and entertaining program.

These efforts have met with such encouraging response from the people of the county that other county societies, and the Michigan Historical Society, are viewing the Delta county program as the possible answer to the problem of attracting greater participation in projects of historical importance.

IMPRESSIVE—At a recent meeting of local history societies of Northern Michigan at Marquette, the Delta County Historical Society program stood out as noteworthy.

When Frank Bender, Jr., president of the Delta group, reported that monthly meetings are held, that at least two meetings in summer are outing programs in county communities, that out of these meetings comes a record of historical interest that becomes a part of the County Historical Society's files—the folks from other counties and from the Michigan Historical Society at Lansing sat up and listened.

Here was something new and different. Hundreds of people, not just a hand-picked committee, are participating in the collection of historical data—and having fun at it, too.

BARK RIVER NEXT—Meetings of the Delta County Historical Society have, within the past couple years, been held in Gladstone, Rock, Stonington, Sack Bay, and Ford River and Escanaba.

This summer meetings will be held at Bark River Sunday afternoon, July 23, and at Kates Bay on the Garden Peninsula in August. The latter meeting will be in observance of the 100th anniversary of the settlement of Kates Bay.

But because the Bark River meeting is first on the list, we will tell you something about the way such a program comes into being.

PRESENTING HISTORY—The history of the Bark River community will be written and presented by Mrs. Inard Nelson, with the assistance of other residents of the area.

Among those who have been or will be contacted to assist in collecting information for a history of Bark River will be Edward J. Bergman, Sr., Helmer Bruce, Miss Lottie Frechette, Mrs. Elmer C. Carlson, Ole Harstad, Frank Romain, all of Bark River; Henry Nelson of Schaffer, and others.

Mrs. Nelson will prepare a written record of the history of the community, and some of the community pioneers will give talks at the picnic meeting on their recollections of the early days.

The outing and program is expected to be held at Bergman's grove, with the Bark River Lions club handling the arrangements.

HOME COMING—There is a social aspect to the program that makes it enjoyable to everyone, whether they have an interest in history.

The families gather with their picnic lunches around the tables. The oldtimers visit back and forth, talking about the days when "the railroad went through," and life was simpler but far more rugged.

Many former residents come back for the day's program, making it a homecoming that helps revive memories of long ago.

HELPING OUT—Mrs. Inard Nelson, who will write the history of Bark River, said she would appreciate hearing from those who have information. She wants to make the record complete and accurate.

Among those who will help her with information is Frank Romain of Bark River, who is probably the oldest living resident born in Bark River, and Frank has a question he would like answered:

Where is the former Miss Della Lindquist, who taught school in Bark River when Frank was a boy? She has since married and moved away—but her married name is not known to Bark River folks. She has a special invitation to attend the meeting at Bark River July 23.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Washington—President Roosevelt created a sensation in the capital today when he appointed two Republicans to his cabinet. Col. Frank Knox of Chicago has been appointed secretary of the navy and Henry L. Stimson secretary of war. Congress members who have been demanding more aloofness from European affairs angrily charged that a "war cabinet" was being formed. Administration men issued denials and interpreted the appointments as a move to sink partisanship in an hour of crisis.

Philadelphia—The Republican national committee formally and officially read Col. Frank Knox and Henry L. Stimson out of the party today for accepting places in President Roosevelt's cabinet.

20 YEARS AGO

Lansing—Judge Edward Jeffries yesterday was given the uncontested nomination as Democratic candidate for governor in Michigan.

Detroit—Vent's Five Per Cent Bank, a private institution on West Jefferson avenue, today failed to open its doors. It is the fifth case of its kind to occur in the past 10 days.

Newberry—Miss Evelyn Foster, who teaches in Grand Rapids and Miss Grace Mackey, who teaches in St. Paul, are spending the summer touring Europe. Miss Mackey will visit in Ireland, Scotland and England, and Miss Foster will tour France, Germany, Switzerland and other countries.

READY FOR GABRIEL—Spry and spirited at 76, Martin J. Dziubakowski is busy these days waxing and polishing his casket on the front porch of his Cleveland, O., home. If he doesn't whistle as he works, it's more on account of his beard than any lack of cheerfulness. Dziubakowski came to Cleveland from Austria in 1901. About 36 years ago he found a fine piece of oak. "Ah, that will be for my casket," he declared. And so the collection of oak pieces began. He completed the casket long ago and now gives it fatherly care with frequent polishing.

Sen. Harry Byrd Wields Big Club

Virginia Democrat Is Powerful Figure

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—On any list of the most influential men in Washington the name of Senator Harry F. Byrd would come fairly high up. For purposes of listing, the senator is a Democrat. Actually he is the head of a party of his own, and any resemblance to the Democratic party of President Truman is purely coincidental.

CHILDS

Byrd's power is yet another reminder of how meaningless our political labels have become today. Nor does the Dixiecrat tag fit the Byrd party.

Its origins go a long way back of that. They go back to Thomas Jefferson and the kind of squariness that some of his adulators believe Jefferson envisioned for this nation. Harry Byrd is a Virginia squire on a 20th century scale. His power rests, in part in the prestige that tradition still has, in the era of mass production and atomic war.

Vetoed Fellow Virginian—If Senator Byrd's power is largely negative, it is nevertheless real. He has just demonstrated it by vetoing the president's appointment of Martin A. Hutchinson, to be a member of the federal trade commission at a salary of $15,000 a year.

There are special aspects of this use of the Byrd veto power, since Hutchinson not only comes from Virginia, but in 1946 he ran against the senator for the senatorial nomination. If he cares to, a senator may declare a nominee from his home state to be personally obnoxious to him, and under the rules of the club, that is almost sufficient to block his confirmation.

But Byrd did not do that in this instance. In a letter to the senate commerce committee, considering Hutchinson's nomination, he said that the nominee lacked training, experience and competence for the position.

Contrary to the legend of the tight control exercised by the Byrd machine in Virginia, there are frankly expressed differences on this point. Virginia's attorney general, J. Lindsay Almond Jr., one of the ranking members of the Byrd organization, endorsed Hutchinson, praising him for his "sincerity, honesty, manifest courage of conviction and devotion to duty," and predicting that he would "acquit himself most creditably in the faithful discharge of the duties which may be incumbent upon him." Others in the Virginia hierarchy praised the abilities of the president's nominee as a lawyer.

But it does not appear likely he will exercise those abilities in a federal office. The commerce committee reported on the Hutchinson appointment unfavorably, by a vote of 5 to 3. Unless something unforeseen occurs, the senate, as a whole, is expected to follow this lead if there is a vote on Hutchinson.

Seen As Slap

Byrd's friends believe that in naming Hutchinson, the president intended a direct slap at their hero. There is no doubt of the president's intense dislike and resentment of the vetoing Virginian. A favorite Truman theme aimed at visitors with sally Missouri expletives is Byrd's political iniquity. Related to the public on at least one occasion, this has helped to fan the feud.

But if the testimonials to Hutchinson are even partly true, then Byrd's action must also be put down to political spleen. Earlier this year Byrd succeeded in blocking a Truman nominee—Mon C. Wallgren, former governor of Washington, and the president's close friend, named to be chairman of the National Security Resources board. But, in that instance, many shared the doubt as to Wallgren's ability to hold such a vitally important post.

Byrd's speciality, and the source of his great popularity with business audiences, is economy. He has performed a valuable service in pointing out waste, duplication and inefficiency in the huge leviathan of government.

But economy can be a two-edged sword when peace or war, survival or chaos, turn so largely on the responsibility focused in Washington. To cripple the state department and the Voice of America with an arbitrary slash would be to risk far more than he has the right to risk at this

Rapid River Lions Name Officers, Busy Year Ends

RAPID RIVER—Newly elected officers of the Rapid River Lions club announced today are: King Lion, Bertil Proehl, first vice president; Edwin Wescen, second vice president; Norman Slough, third vice president; Archie Forrest, secretary; Ray Barney, treasurer; Wilbur Goodman, tail twister; Howard Kuehn, lion tamer; Louis Larson; director, Harry Buchman.

During the past year the Lions club and American Legion Post sponsored a number of activities and programs for civic betterment.

They included a play at the high school gym, "Aunt Tilly," proceeds of which went to the football fund; a social for the benefit of the Parent Teacher association; a donkey basketball game with the Gladstone Lions for the football fund; and another benefit social. The two organizations also sponsored a new deal for the benefit of sports fishermen; conducted a boat feature at the U. P. State fair; entertained men of the Rapid River high school faculty; entertained the Perkins Lions club and the basketball team and sponsored a baseball team.

Their most recent project is acquiring a Rapid River high school athletic field, and a three-acre plot of beans has been planted for that purpose.

The football fund to date is approximately $400.

A tractor mower can cut as much hay in 10 minutes as 10 men can in a day.

Some weeks ago Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota introduced a resolution to abolish the Byrd committee on non-essential federal expenditures because it seemed to duplicate the work of the committee on expenditures in the executive department, and therefore to constitute in itself a waste of time and money. The prestige of the Virginia squire was demonstrated when the Republican-Southern Democrat coalition descended on Humphrey like a ton of bricks. And, significantly, no one on his own side of the aisle rose in his defense. Here is a party within a party and, in a sense, a government within a government.

Phone Rates Are Increased

Schedule Announced
By Michigan Bell

Rate increases ordered by the Public Service commission for Michigan Bell Telephone company users will apply to just about every type of local service in every exchange in the company's territory, it has been announced.

The $8,200,000 increase in company revenues amounting to about $5,500,000 annually, after taxes, was effective June 20 under the commission's order.

Residence users here will pay increases ranging from $.50 to $.75 a month under the revised schedule. Increases for business customers will range from $.75 to $1.50 a month.

The new rates will be:
Residence Service—Individual line, $3.50 a month; two-party, $3.00 a month; four-party, $2.50 a month; rural, $2.75 a month.

Business Service—private-branch exchange, $9.75 a month; individual line, $6.50 a month; two-party, $5.50 a month; rural, $4.25 a month.

Residence extension rates are increased to $.85 a month and business extensions to $1.50.

The rates quoted are subject to a 15 percent federal tax.

Long distance rates are not changed by the order.

Thomas N. Lacy, president of Michigan Bell, said the company welcomes the much needed relief the $8,200,000 rate order brings.

"Amounting to $5,500,000, after taxes, the increase is definitely in the consumer interest," Lacy said, "for good telephone service should be and is the chief concern of our customers."

"While it will help strengthen the company's financial condition and will aid us in doing the kind of job the people in Michigan want us to do, it is considerably less than the amount needed and is insufficient to insure adequate earnings and our continued ability to attract necessary capital."

"Unlike an unregulated industry where price adjustments are almost automatically geared to rising costs, under regulation, considerable delays are experienced before relief is granted. We had to wait almost 19 months for this increase. A previous increase in October 1948 required 14 months of waiting."

"Costs of doing business were increasing during all of that time and the inadequate return incurred during such a long procedure can never be made up."

"In addition, the relief that has been accorded falls far short of matching the increased costs of doing business."

In addition to the $8,200,000 increase, the company was allowed other increases in rates in the amount of $720,000 to allow for revenue decreases which have occurred since the December 1948 application. These included the elimination of overtime charges on one unit calls in the Detroit area, and the losses resulting from the further expansion of extended area service. In addition the order allowed for the failure of the toll rate increase of July 2, 1949 to bring in the expected revenue. The total revenue increase from the new rates which became effective June 20, is $8,920,000 and the total increase from the two orders resulting from the December 1948 application is $13,381,000.

Harry Bridges Still A Citizen

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—CIO Longshore leader Harry Bridges still has his citizenship.

The government says he obtained it fraudulently by denying he ever was a Communist. Yesterday Federal Judge George B. Harris signed a formal decree revoking the U. S. citizenship of the Australian-born labor leader, but his attorneys immediately filed notice of appeal.

Judge Harris said Bridges' status would remain that of a citizen while the appeal is before the courts.

Bridges' appeal from his conviction of perjury, based on his Communist disavowal at the hearing which resulted in his naturalization Sept. 17, 1945, also is pending. That appeal has held up the execution of the sentence—five years in prison.

Should revocation of his citizenship be upheld, Bridges would be subject to possible deportation proceedings.

Rent Control Bill Up In House Today Has 'Local Option'

WASHINGTON—(P)—A "local option" rent control bill comes before the House today, with passage apparently certain after a brief argument over some of its provisions.

The product of a compromise between the Senate and the House after separate bills had been passed, the measure would:

1. Extend until next December 31 the federal rent control program due to expire at the end of this month.

2. Permit cities to continue the controls until June 30, 1951, if they take affirmative action. Otherwise the controls would end.

3. Retain controls on permanent accommodations in Chicago transient hotels.

4. Allow counties to decontrol their unincorporated areas at any time. Cities and states now have this authority.

Employee Of Detroit Bank Faces Prison For Gambling $10,800

DETROIT—(P)—A 33-year-old bank employee who admitted gambling away $10,800 faces a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison after pleading guilty in federal court.

James H. Binkley entered his plea on an embezzlement charge yesterday before federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle. Sentencing was deferred.

Although the warrant against Binkley listed only $10,800 taken from the Industrial National bank, assistant U. S. District Attorney Kenneth Smith said the defendant agreed to restore $12,000.

Detroit FBI chief Harry O'Connor said Binkley made out false loan cards to convert the money to his own use last fall. FBI men quoted the clerk as saying he lost the money in Webster Inn at Toledo, O., identified as a gambling house.

Dairy Farmers To Meet Friday

Artificial Breeding Program Subject

Dairy farmers and other persons interested in the progress made in the artificial breeding program to develop quality herds are invited to attend a meeting to be held at 8:30 p. m. Friday at the Bark River community building. It was announced today by J. L. Heiman, Delta county agricultural agent.

Specially prepared films made at Michigan State College, showing the sires in use at the bull stud of the Michigan Artificial Breeding association, will be presented. The bulls are owned by the MABA and its 23,000 members in the state.

There are two local artificial breeding associations in Delta county—the Delta-Escanaba and Delta-Rock ABA—that have experienced considerable growth within the past year, according to Archie Dunford and Sulo Ruotsala, secretaries of the associations.

The state ABA program is headed by A. C. Baltzer, associate professor, Michigan State college. He points out that artificial breeding offers dairymen "low price seed stock from the finest dairy sires."

Mines Sink 2 Ships In Shanghai Blockade; Only 5 Men Missing

HONG KONG—(P)—Only five Chinese crewmen were reported still missing today from two ships which sank Monday after hitting mines while running the Chinese Nationalist blockade of Shanghai.

The five are from the 1,290-ton, Greek-registered steamship Santos, Shanghai agents for her Hong Kong owners, the Trinity Development Co., reported.

All 32 officers and crewmen of the 800-ton, Panamanian-registered motorship Valve, owned by the South West Industrial Co., were rescued.

The Santos and Valve sinkings caused Hong Kong shippers to cancel immediately sailings to Shanghai. Two British ships—the Empire Dirk and Tsinan—are in Shanghai and were ordered to stay there until the mines have been cleared.

Docks Remain Idle At Four Ohio Ports

TOLEDO, O.—(P)—Efforts to end a six-day strike at coal docks in four Ohio cities remained stalemated today, after failure of an all-day conference of company and union officials.

Struck by the AFL International Longshoremen's association are docks here and at Huron, Lorain and Fairport.

C. C. Pund, superintendent of Toledo's Lake Front Dock Co., said he had offered 7½ cent hourly wage increases in addition to longer vacations. The union held out for 20 cents, he added. Originally the union had demanded 30 cents more.

Work has resumed, however, at a dock owned here by the Chesapeake and Ohio railway which is not being struck. Some 165 employees who had refused to cross picket lines agreed to use a separate entrance and 800 cars were dumped at the C. & O. dock Tuesday after operations resumed.

NEW SETUP STUDIED
Without dissent, the Senate directed its finance committee to make a thorough study of the whole program. It will especially study the possibilities of shifting to a system of universal coverage financed on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Also to be embraced in the study is the relationship of the Social Security system to private pension plans.

Senator Taft of Ohio, the Republican policy chief in the Senate, said in a statement after the bill passed that he favored development of a system "under which old age pensions will be paid to all persons over 65 on a pay-as-you-go basis."

Benefits under the present old-age retirement program are paid from a trust fund built up by a payroll tax on employers and employees to persons who have become eligible through contributions while in covered employment.

PAYROLL TAX BOOSTED
WASHINGTON—(P)—Here are the principal changes which would be made in the federal old-age retirement system by the Senate's Social Security bill:

Coverage—About 10,000,000 persons, mostly the so-called self-employed (operators of small businesses), farm hired help and domestic workers would be added to the 35,000,000 persons now covered.

Benefits—Mostly payments to those now receiving them would be increased an average of 35 to 90 per cent—from an average of $26 to an average of $48. For persons retiring in the future, payments would be about double those provided under present law.

For example, maximum family benefits would be raised from $85 a month to $150.

Taxes—The present payroll tax of 1½ per cent on employer and employee, on earnings up to $3,000 a year, would be continued until 1956. After 1956, the rate would rise gradually to 3¼ per cent in 1970. Under present law it would rise to 2 per cent after 1951.

Eligibility—Requirements for eligibility for benefits would be relaxed. A worker would be fully insured if he were in covered employment for half of the calendar quarters between 1950 (or after reaching age 21) and his retirement. A minimum of six quarters of coverage would be required, but in no case would more than 40 be required.

Also persons who have had six quarters of coverage since the present system was set up in 1936 would be eligible for benefits, but not under the new, high-payment formula. This latter provision would give payments to many persons now aged 65 who are ineligible at present.

The Senators argued that "a group" could mean anything as new planes are developed and strategy and size of air unit changed.

But House members won their battle for use of the term "70 United States air force groups."

The compromise now goes to the House and then the Senate for expected approval.

QUEEN CONTEST—Miss Barbara McWilliams of Ishpeming will represent Local 286, International Ladies Garment Workers Union, in the Samuel Gompers Centennial queen contest at the Escanaba fairgrounds Saturday afternoon. She was selected by the employees of the H. W. Gosard company.

Bunions Eased In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The big bunion derby ends in Los Angeles today.

Union transit strikers are getting 1,100 street cars and buses rolling again, to the delight of a million daily riders and thousands of visiting Shrine conventioners who have been hoofing it since last Friday.

The union voted 753 to 622 last night to accept a new contract and go back to work. The first streetcar rolled out of the barns at 4 a. m.

The striking AFL-Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, accepted the final offer by the management of Los Angeles Transit Lines which provides:

A wage increase of five cents an hour the first year over the average of $1.47 an hour; an additional three-cent boost after one year; an eight-hour day, 40-hour week; improved vacation and overtime plans. The agreement runs for two years.

The 4,000 men of the union walked out to enforce a demand for a 20-cents-an-hour increase. The best company offer until yesterday was four cents.

Senate Passes Bill To Double Benefit Checks

Neb.) and Cain (R-Wash.) voting against it, steps were taken toward further and possibly more fundamental changes in the Social Security system.

Without dissent, the Senate directed its finance committee to make a thorough study of the whole program. It will especially study the possibilities of shifting to a system of universal coverage financed on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Committee Approves 70-Group Air Force

WASHINGTON—(P)—Authorization for a hard-hitting modern combat air force of 70 groups was agreed upon today by a Senate-House conference committee.

The compromise appeared to be a victory for air-minded House members who for several years have been demanding specific permanent authority for the 70-group air force.

Senators had urged a more general air power goal, based upon 24,000 serviceable aircraft or 225,000 airframe tons. As engine, landing gear, guns and special equipment.

Help For Formosa May Be Granted In U. S. Policy Change

WASHINGTON—(P)—Sweeping reviews of U. S. policy underway in Washington and Tokyo have torn wide open again the dispute on whether this country should help Chiang Kai-shek defend Formosa.

Official informants emphasized today that present U. S. policy is flatly against any military assistance to Chiang in his island stronghold. The fact that policies are being reviewed, however, at least opens the possibility of a reversal of this position.

At the state department, the far eastern review has been undertaken under the direction of assistant secretary Dean Rusk. He recently took over control of far eastern affairs for Secretary Acheson.

In Tokyo, secretary of defense Johnson and General Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, are conferring with General Douglas MacArthur on the whole range of U. S. security interests in the western Pacific, including the Formosan situation.

At the same time, diplomatic authorities were obviously uncertain as to how far or how fast Mr. Truman might be able to effect a change, assuming that his advisers advocate one.

The administration has completely written off the Chiang government and has taken a strong stand on the Formosan question, as shown by two documents.

1. The China White paper late last summer branded the Chiang government a failure due to alleged incompetence, corruption of some officials and a failure to make needed reforms. The Communist victory on the China mainland was attributed to Chiang's weakness.

2. In January, after weeks of public debate in and out of Congress, Mr. Truman issued a statement saying that Formosa was Chinese territory and that the United States "will not pursue a course which will lead to involvement in the civil conflict in China."

He then ruled out any military aid or advice to the Chinese forces on Formosa and said that the resources in the island were adequate for its defensive needs.

There was considerable belief here shortly after the President's policy declaration that Formosa might fall to the Communists fairly quickly. That would have ended the issue.

Since then, however, the Chinese Communists have failed to attack the island—which lies 100 miles off the mainland. Reports now reaching official Washington are that Chiang has taken steps to strengthen the island's defenses and improve its administration. In other words, there is now some feeling here among officials that the island may remain in Chinese Nationalist hands indefinitely.

Make Your Wife Your Hobby, New Hubbies Advised

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Tips by the poor man's philosopher to a young June bridegroom:

Well, my boy, if you hope for a quick success in marriage today you're going to have to make a sharp break with the past.

Don't try to be the King in your kitchenette. Man has tried through the ages to rule his roost by force—and ended up just a mouse around the house. This is because he has never been able to make his muscle match woman's indomitable will, her soft insistence on having her own way.

Mother Warned Her

The thing to do is to confuse her, worry her into a position where she'll spend the rest of her life trying to make you happy.

You must remember that you are going into marriage completely unprepared. But she has been warned by her mother:

"He'll try to boss you, dear. So you put the beast in his place right at the start."

The best thing you can do is to do the unexpected. Crush her with loving kindness. Bring her flowers every day from work and greet her with a kiss.

Don't let her lift her finger around the house. You do all the chores. You wash the windows, scrub the bathroom floor, run the cleaner, gallop to the grocery store. Do as much of the cooking as you can. And, above all, insist on washing the dishes and drying them all by yourself.

"No dishpan hands for my little darling," you can tell her.

Invite The In-Laws

Naturally she'll be comparing you critically to her own father. She'll be homesick for her mother too. So don't bring your own noisy friends home. Invite her parents over for dinner at least five nights a week.

Then belt her old man with Martinis until he starts spilling ashes all over the rug and telling the same bragging stories your wife has heard since she was in kindergarten. When your mother-in-law comes into the kitchen and sniffs that the place is a mess, just answer humbly:

"I'm sorry. I do the very best I can, mother-in-law dear."

It won't take your wife long to decide that her old man had better do his drinking in his own home. And she isn't going to let any other woman—even her mother—boss you around. She'll get rid of them.

By now she knows she is practically useless, and guilt sweeps over her. And she's weary of your perpetual, cloying affection.

"Don't you have a hobby like other men?" she demands. "I used to like to go bowling or play poker," you say. "But you are my hobby now, my dove. I wouldn't know what to do with myself if I went out without you."

Weeping Gets Results

You have her on the ropes now, and it is time for the clincher. Let her come into the living room a few times and discover you lying on the sofa, weeping silently. When she asks you what's the matter, just mumble bravely:

"Oh, nothing, nothing. Just my silly old nerves, I guess."

That does it. She is completely frustrated. Before long she will be courting you—trying her best to please you. She will insist on doing all the housework herself. She will buy you pretty clothes.

Trout Survive N. Y. Lamprey

Research Conducted In Finger Lakes

WASHINGTON, D. C.—WNS—Trout and other commercial fish survive lamprey attacks in the Finger Lakes section of New York State, Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior announced, and an investigation is under way to determine the reasons for this so that a plan may be carried out in the Great Lakes which will enable commercial and game fish to survive that attacks of the voracious lamprey.

Lionel A. Walford of the Fish and Wildlife Service said that lampreys are in the waters of the Finger Lakes and have been for years but that trout and other fish have survived in the Finger Lakes. A crew of experts will be sent up to this region in New York State to endeavor to find what it is that saves commercial fish from the lamprey.

In the Great Lakes, the lamprey has been held responsible for the destruction of trout and other fish to the point where the fishing industry has been seriously affected. Mr. Walford said that preliminary work had not yet been undertaken in the New York State lakes but that it would be shortly. He did not say just what theories the Fish and Wildlife experts have in this regard.

He said the problem was one which might take a long time to solve. Destruction of the lamprey without destruction of commercial fish may take years to develop, he pointed out.

A boat is being constructed for use of the experts now operating in Lake Michigan and others of the Great Lakes, and on this a laboratory will be built. He said that use of some boat in the hands of the Army or one of the other Government departments had been given up because of the expense of operation.

Efforts are going forward in the development of a parasite which might dispose of the lamprey and for some disease with which it might be affected. The work in the laboratory on the boat will be along this line.

PRESIDENTIAL PHILATELIST President Franklin Roosevelt began his philatelic collection when he was eight years old, and it is said to be one of the most valuable collections of stamps in the United States.

AT PENNEY'S ESCANABA

HOME DECORATOR

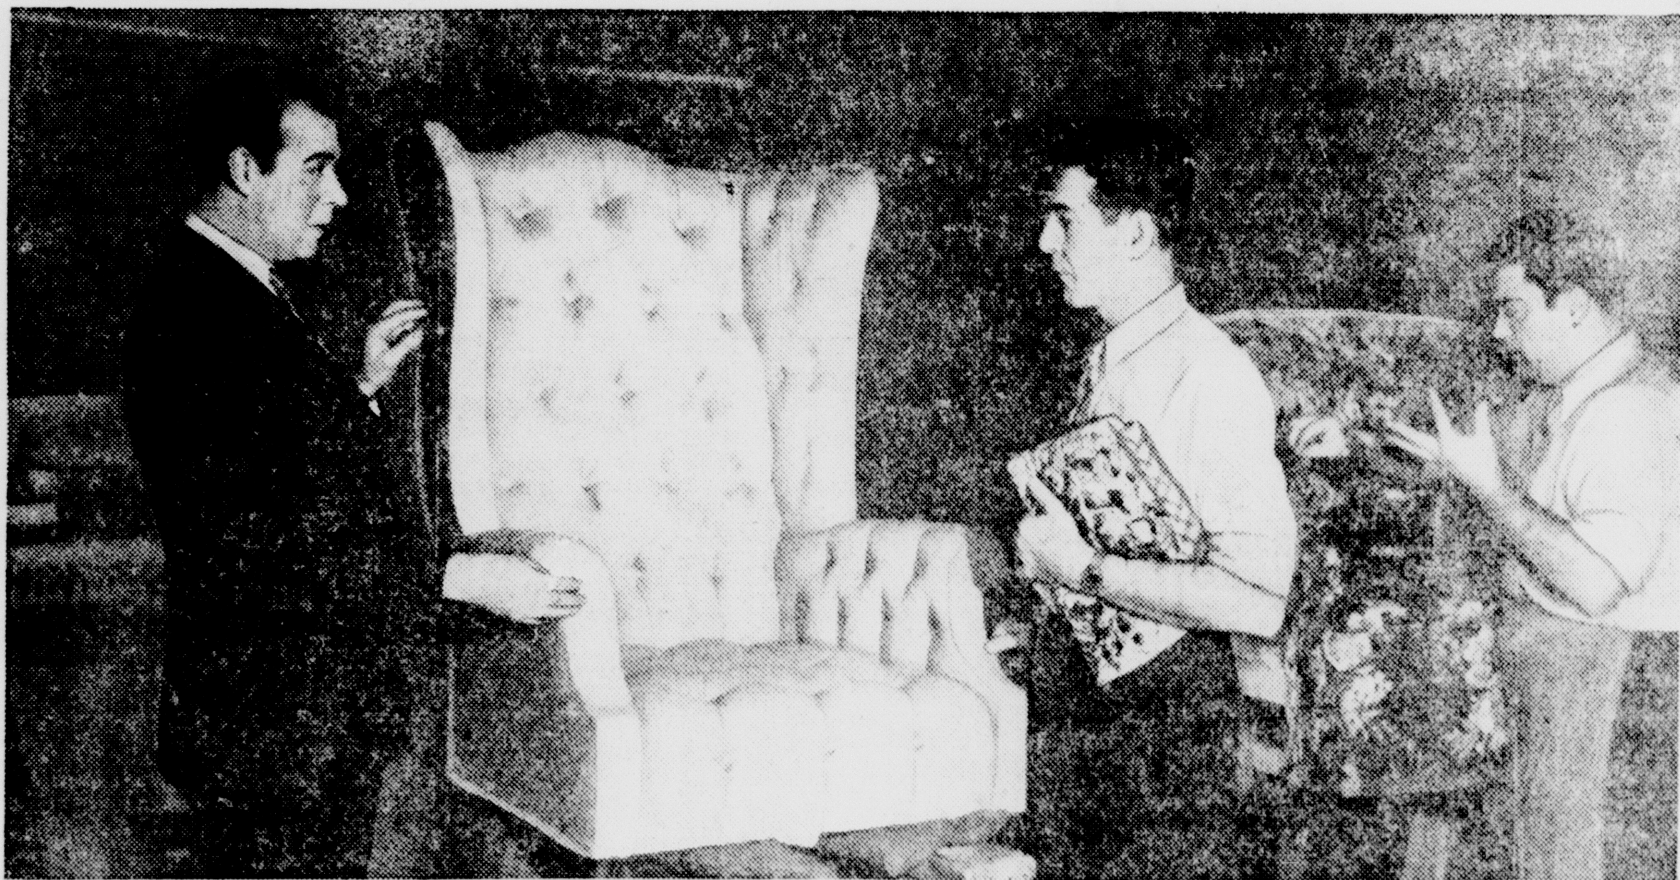

DESIGNER Alban Conway regards the vastness of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Starr's bare apartment in New York and discusses the beginning plans with them.

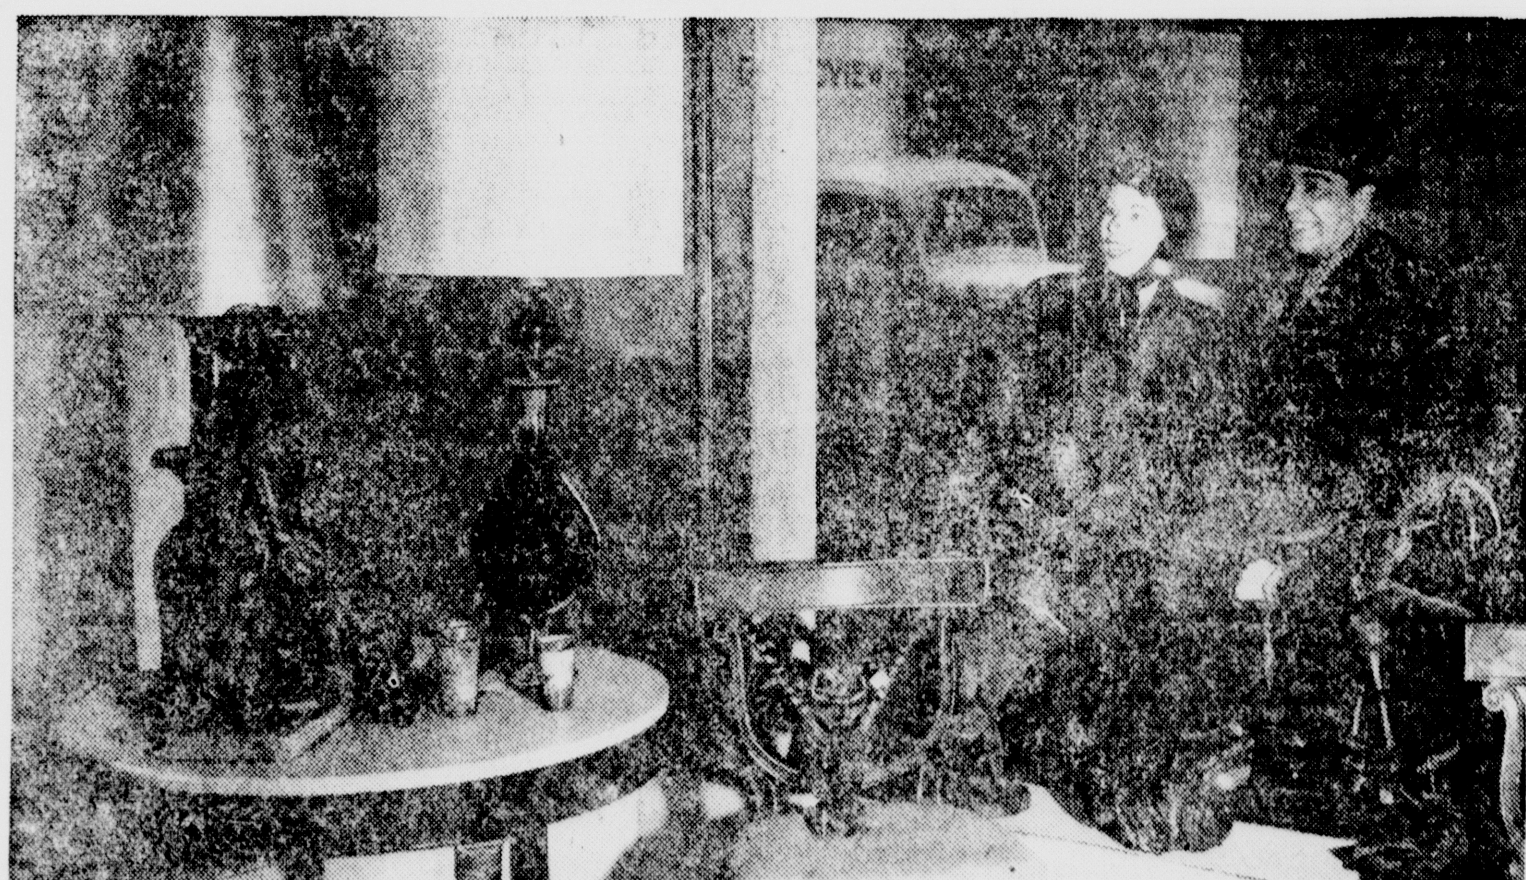

BLUEPRINTS. Mr. Conway at the drawing board plans the layout.

Interior decorating can be listed among the major industries in America's large cities. The business runs into the spending of millions of dollars each year, for not only is the decorator's fee involved, but the business he gives to the painters, manufacturers of furniture, carpets, draperies, dealers in art objects, antiques.

It's the duty of the interior decorator or designer to plan completely and furnish the home of the client. He determines their tastes, the amount of money they wish to spend, and then he proceeds from there. He blueprints the entire arrangements, spends much time estimating the costs, plans the color scheme, shops for rugs, drapes, furniture, fabrics, lamps — in short, everything necessary for the home. The steps taken by Alban Conway, a well known New York interior designer, in decorating an apartment are pictured here.

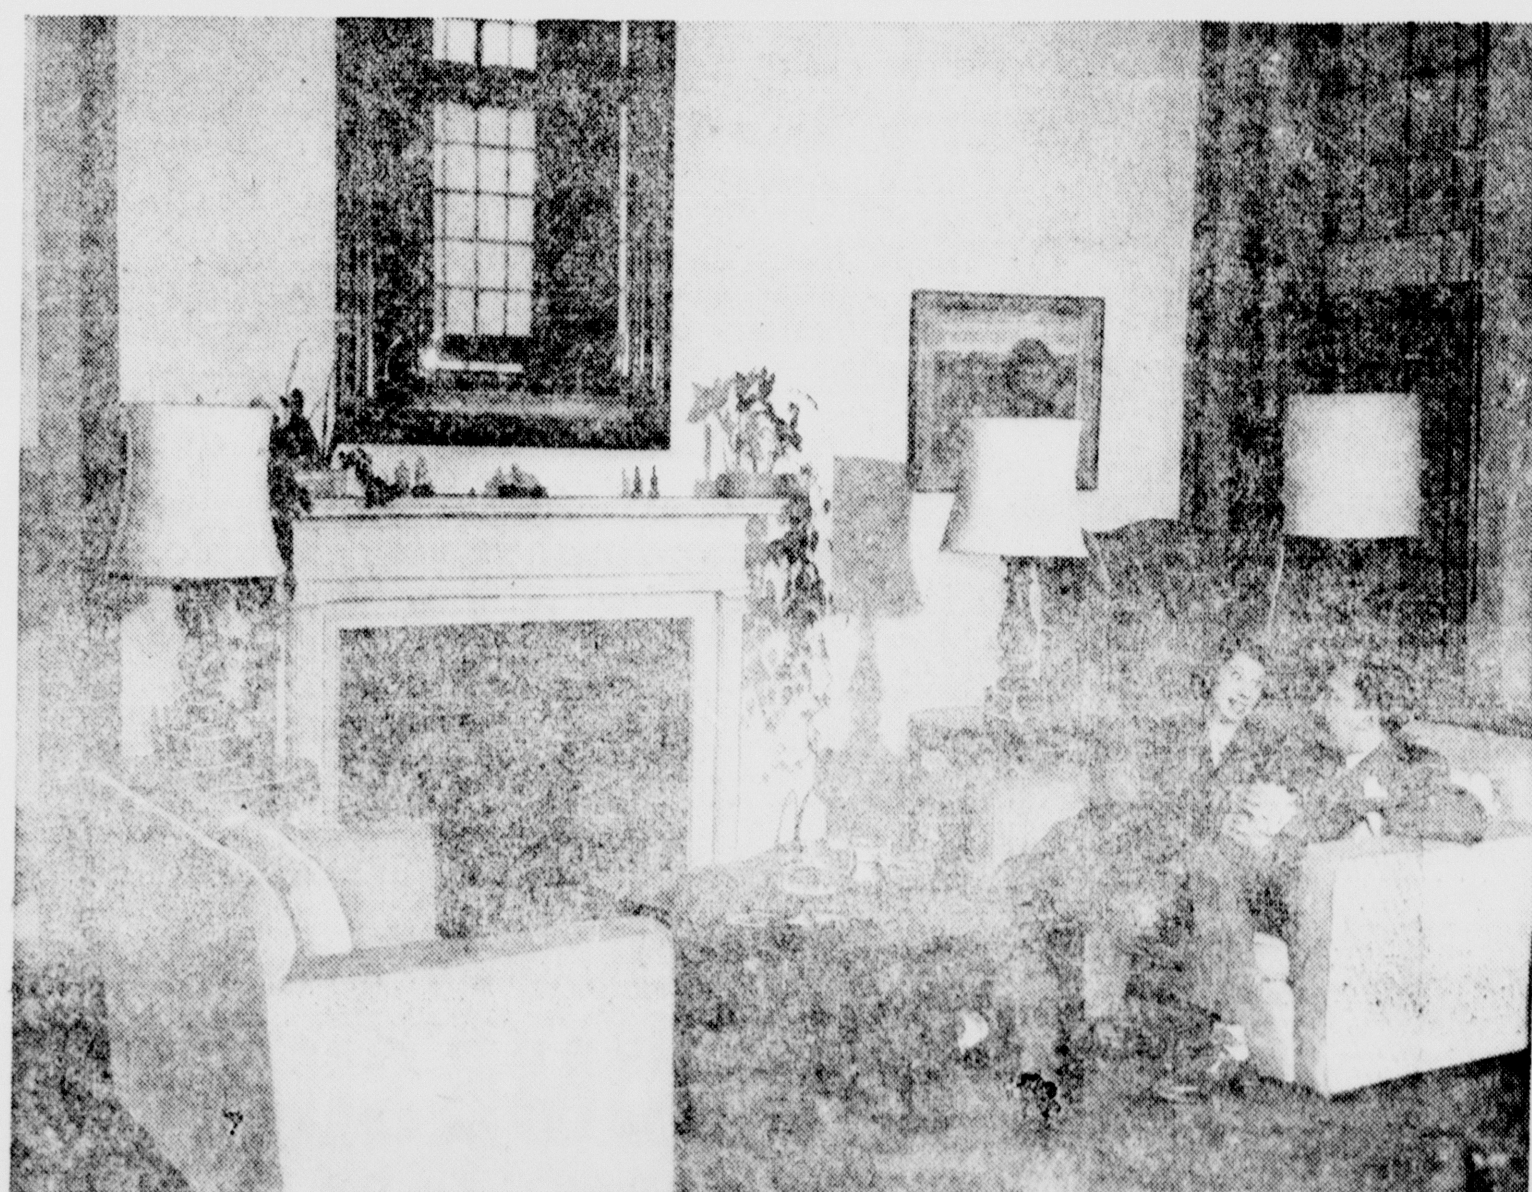

CONSTRUCTION of chair and shade of green in which he wants it done is discussed by Mr. Conway with the upholsters.

SHOPPING. Sometimes the piece that can't be found at the plushier shops is discovered in less expensive store.

Hanna Mining Company History Is Reviewed

IRON RIVER, Mich.—How the Hanna company grew is the story of a modern industrial empire stemming from the initiative of a leading Cleveland man of business and public service.

It is told in the following article that appeared in the Hanna Miner, a monthly publication of the firm in the Lake Superior region:

Had you been born fifty years earlier, you would have needed no introduction to Marcus A. Hanna, one of the ablest statesmen and business diplomats in American history.

For twenty years he was nationally known as President McKinley's closest friend and advisor, as United States senator from Ohio, and as the man who more than any other built the Republican party into the dominant political force in the nation from 1896 until long after his death in 1904. Today, his statue at Cleveland's University Circle is pointed out to visitors as that of one of Ohio's greatest sons.

Young Pioneer
In 1867 Mark Hanna, then 30, joined the Cleveland coal and iron partnership of Rhodes & Company and rapidly expanded it into the business of handling and shipping iron ore at the lower lakes port. Soon the firm began to acquire a fleet of vessels, carrying coal up the lakes and ore down. The first all-steel boats on the Great Lakes were built for the Hanna fleet.

ORE SHIPPED HERE
Iron ore from the Hanna company mines on the Mesabi range is shipped from the Iron River area to the C&N.W. docks at Escanaba and loaded into boats for transportation to lower lake ports.

In recognition of Mr. Hanna's ability, the name of the firm was changed in 1885 to M. A. Hanna & Co. The business has borne his name ever since, although he withdrew in 1895 to devote all of his time and energy to political matters. His success in this field became universally recognized with the election in 1896 of President McKinley, whose career Mr. Hanna had actively promoted.

The company he had built continued to grow under the leadership of his brother, Leonard C. Hanna. Within a few years it had reached a point where it was mining coal and iron ore, transporting them in its own vessels, unloading them on docks which it managed, and smelting much of the ore in blast furnaces which it operated at Detroit, Buffalo and several other points. Through these activities—the mining, transportation and sale of large tonnages of the basic minerals used by the steel industry—the pattern of the business was established.

Expanding Ore Interests
Until shortly before World War I, the ore trade was largely dominated by the merchant ore firms, of which Hanna was (and is) one. These firms acted as sales agents for the owners of iron ore mines. In the early years of the century, Hanna represented as many as 26 mining companies at one time.

The ore firms built up very close relationships with the mine owners they represented, advising them on matters of production and business conditions, and helping them to improve their mining techniques. It was in this way that Hanna's reputation grew up on the ranges.

In those days it was not customary for the merchant ore firms to own mines directly, although their partners often made personal investments in mines. In the middle 1890's two Hanna partners were among the original investors in the Mahoning Mine at Hibbing, destined to become a part of the gigantic Hull - Rust - Mahoning group which for many years has held the title of the world's largest iron ore mine.

Partners
Hanna partners were also interested in the Richmond, LaRue and Consumers mining companies in Minnesota, and later made substantial investments in the Wakefield Iron Company mines on the Gogebic Range. The Hanna interests in Michigan date back to the eighties when they were actively operating on principal sales agents. Since that time, they have been continuously active in the Michigan iron districts.

Like the merchant ore firms, steel companies (with the exception of U. S. Steel) had not found it advisable to own mines during the period up to World War I. After that war, the large steel producers began to "integrate" all of their operations. To assure themselves of ore supplies in the future, they rapidly bought into mining companies, especially those owning substantial reserves of iron ore. Also, at this time, the Hanna organization formed a new company which gradually acquired the personal mining interests which Hanna partners owned.

In 1922, the business was changed from a partnership to a corporation named the M. A. Hanna Company, with Matthew Andrews chairman of the board and Howard M. Hanna, president. After Mr. Andrews' death in 1929, Howard M. Hanna became chairman, and George M. Humphrey, who had come to the business in 1918 from a law practice in Michigan, became president.

An Important Transaction
The formation of National Steel Corporation in 1929 became the occasion for one of the most important transactions in Hanna's history. Into the new steel company went Hanna's iron ore mining interests, its lake-front blast furnaces, and most of its fleet of lake vessels. In exchange for these and certain other properties Hanna received National Steel stock. Ever since then Hanna has continued to own this substantial interest in National Steel, which has become one of the conspicuously successful independent steel producers.

This move did not lessen Hanna's interest in the ore ranges or in lake shipping, because the Hanna organization has continued to manage the iron ore properties and the fleet of vessels. Actually, Hanna's activities on the ranges have been continuous since the early days of the merchant ore firms.

Evergreen Mines
In 1945, Hanna purchased a controlling interest in Evergreen Mines Company, which owned mines on the Mesabi and Cuyuna Ranges. This was followed in 1948 by the Butler Brothers transaction, when Hanna, together with Armeto, Inland, and Wheeling steel companies purchased a controlling interest in Butler. At that time Hanna took over supervision of the five groups of Butler mines.

Other iron ore mining operations under Hanna management are the historic Clifton Mine in northern New York state, which had lain idle for nearly 100 years until Hanna re-established it in 1942; the Iron Mountain Mine near St. Louis, Missouri, which was first operated prior to the Civil War; and mines near Spring Valley in Southeastern Minnesota.

Today, Hanna supervises the management of 23 iron ore mines. Its total handling of ore in 1949 was well over 11,000,000 tons. Fifteen beneficiation plants are operated on the Mesabi and Cuyuna Ranges and a Clifton, Iron Mountain and Spring Valley.

Hanna's newest venture in iron ore is the exploration and development of the important and recently-proven ore deposits in Labrador and Quebec. In this program Hanna is associated with a group of five outstanding steel companies and with the Hollinger interest of Canada. The drilling program has so far proved the existence of more than 350,000,000 tons of high-grade ore, with much of the properties still to be explored. There is every reason to believe that in a few years this ore will provide a most valuable supplementary source of supply for the steel industry.

Hanna's Coal Activities
Through all these years while the Hanna organization was building up its iron ore interests, a corresponding development was taking place in its coal activities.

Coal has always been a basic part of the Hanna business. It owned many mines and represented many others as sales agent, and with its fleet of vessels built up the largest lake shipping business in the coal industry, shipping over 11,000,000 tons in the year 1948. This coal came from some 400 mines in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. It was loaded from seven ports into vessels for shipment to 154 receiving docks at 88 American and Canadian ports elsewhere on the lakes.

In 1945, Hanna began to transfer its ownership of bituminous coal properties to the new Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company in exchange for stock of that company. In this way it has come to own a substantial interest in Pittsburgh Consolidation, the largest bituminous coal company in the world. Three large anthracite mines in Pennsylvania, supplying coal principally to Eastern consumers, are also part of Hanna's coal activities.

Farm Log Truckers Do Not Need To Buy Commercial Plates

LANSING—(P)—An attorney general's opinion has ruled that farmers trucking logs cleared from their own lands do not need to buy commercial license plates for their trucks.

The opinion was asked by John V. Zanardi of Iron Mountain, Dickinson county prosecuting attorney.

The opinion said that as long as farmers truck the lumber as part of their regular farm operations they may continue to use the cheaper farmers' truck plates. If the trucking becomes a separate business from farming, however, the opinion said that commercial plates would be necessary.

Relief Case Load Continues To Drop

LANSING—(P)—The direct relief case load continued to drop in May, W. J. Maxey, state social welfare director, announced today. The load declined by 4,022 to 45,962 cases, because of an annual seasonal decline and because the effects of the settlement of the Chrysler strike were still being felt, Maxey said.

He reported also that old age benefits cases climbed 177 to 100,137. Aid to dependent children rose 144 cases to 28,112 and aid to the blind increased 10 cases to 1,866.

The United States patent office was established under an act signed by George Washington on April 10, 1790.

Hard of Hearing?

—Buzzing in Ears?
—Ringing in Head?
—Muffled Sounds?
THEN THE CHANCES ARE THAT YOU HAVE CERUMEN

CERUMEN is the condition brought on by excessive excretion of wax in the ear canal. Cerumen can make you hard-of-hearing in two ways: by clogging the canal and keeping sound from ear drums; by coating the vibration-carrying canal linings. This deep-down wax, in addition to making you hard-of-hearing, can cause buzzing, ringing, head noises.

Ruark Hates New York, But Wouldn't Leave It

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—My daily contribution to culture momentarily is not appearing in my home city, due to some argument or other between labor and management, and so it occurs that this is the ideal time to sneak in a couple of knocks against New York.

This New York is a real peculiar place to live in. Here is where we tear up the streets, and leave them ruptured for year after year, while city employees lackadaisically contemplate the craters.

Here is a town whose mayor seems perpetually to commute to Florida. Here is a town which has just hit the taxpayer with a rental on sewers, and which has fabricated a law making a bath punishable by fine and imprisonment. Here is a town where cops stick up gin mills, and trucks and buses obey no traffic laws. People walk around hating each other with their eyes. Here is a big town confounded by a small crisis—a trucking strike leaves us hungry. Elevator operators quit and we walk 17 flights upstairs. We jostle and crowd and sweat and strive and strain, but we keep living here for some reason which escapes me.

New Water Regulations
I am thinking mostly about the new water regulations. We make our own rain here, you know, but evidently we have not made enough lately. The city council just passed one bill authorizing $50 fines and 30-day jail sentences for people who use too much water. This misuse of facilities for which we pay heavy taxes is to be determined, I gather, by stool pigeons.

The bill empowers the city to install water meters on premises where water is being used too lavishly for the common weal. Violators of the damp dole may be fined and jailed separately for each offense, even as for speeding. Obviously, an espionage system must be set up to rat on people who have been raised on the adage that cleanliness is next to Godliness. And I suppose a black market on water is just around the corner.

New York is a town where the headwaiters eye you with the cold disdain of a prosecuting attorney with his case in the bag, and you are made to feel that you have been privileged by being allowed to slip the waiter a buck. New York is the home of the ulcer. New York is the city of solidified traffic, with everybody swearing at everybody else. New York is the town where everybody habitually looks worried or harassed.

City Of Filthy Streets
New York's streets are filthy. The air is so foul that to breathe it is an insult to the lungs. New York is a place that taxes you too heavily for everything. Lord only knows what imposition will be placed on the rate-payer when somebody discovers that we are using up too much oxygen or that the sun is being squandered, for free. New York is the town where bus drivers insult you and subway attendants kick you in the fanny to cram you into the underground torture chambers.

But there is something sort of wonderful about the joint. It has an excitement in the fall and spring that is topped by no city, anywhere. It has the best restaurants in the world, and likewise the best entertainment. When you live in New York you have a feeling of superiority. This is the big apple.

In an odd way it is a kind town. You run into the unexpected kindnesses and courtesies. The stranger shares his taxi in the rain. Somebody gives you a nice answer when all you expect is a snarl. You form funny friendships—a bartender here, a cab driver there, a chance acquaintance over yonder. The friendships have a way of lasting.

But mostly what you get out of the town is a reverse-English thrill, like when you quit hitting yourself over the head with a hammer. You feel triumphant about being able to live in it at all, and it is awful nice when you get a chance to leave it for a few days.

It is noisy and smelly and surly and congested and impatient, this New York, and far too expensive. The east side is the east side and likewise the west side, and they do not collide too often. I curse the place daily, but you know something? I wouldn't live any other place in the world.

THE EASY WAY TO REDUCE

BEFORE

AFTER

Read what Miss Helen Valadez writes about B-Thin.

Gentlemen: When I first started taking B-Thin, I weighed 165 pounds. My figure was anything but alluring. For several years I had tried to reduce with dieting, exercising and other reducing plans. None of them seemed to help. I didn't have much faith when a friend told me to try B-Thin. But what a surprise! In the very first week I lost six pounds and after following the B-Thin plan, I brought my weight down to 125 which is the right weight for me. My figure, in turn, my clothes look stunning on me, and I am really enjoying life for the first time in years.

Clan Plaids Turn To Warm Weather

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Sprightly plaids make news in sheer cotton weaves for warm weather dresses. Textile designer Hope Skillman sets the pace with plaids borrowed from such varied sources as men's handkerchiefs and Scottish tartans. The bold satin-plaided handkerchief sheer shows off to fine advantage the harem-draped skirt and soft shirt top of the patio dress (left). This design is the creation of Tina Leser. An authentic clan plaid makes an eye-catching pattern for the simply-styled sheer cotton afternoon dress (right). A permanent finish protects the crisp texture of the fabric through repeated launderings. This dress of Peggy Thayer design has a scoop neckline banded in washable black nylon velvet. —Kay Sherwood, NEA Staff Writer.

Honor Couple On Golden Wedding

Many At Open House Of John Holms

Around 150 friends and relatives visited the John Holms Sunday afternoon and evening at their home at 605 Montana avenue to extend congratulations upon the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

While much of the time was spent in reminiscing, there was a program during which Mrs. Albert Mattson and Mrs. Leonard Sabourin were heard in vocal duets and Mrs. Mattson presented several poems. The couple was presented with a purse of money and many valuable gifts as mementoes of the occasion.

A wealth of congratulatory messages were received including one from Mr. Holm's sister, who was unable to come here for the event.

Dorothy Lamberg, granddaughter of the couple, and Beverly Tadiff poured, using a beautiful silver service more than a half century old.

The table was spread with a gold colored lace cloth, the centerpiece a boat with yellow snapdragons and yellow tulips flanked by golden tapers. Napkins bore golden names of the two celebrants.

Out-of-town persons visiting the couple included Mr. and Mrs. Axel Berglund, Redwood City, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop and children of Ladysmith; Mrs. Elsie Sorenson, Racine; Mrs. Michael Vizena, of Trenary; and Mr. and Mrs. Arne Strom and family of Escanaba.

Notable among local persons was the visit of 87-year-old Frank Erickson who despite near-blindness and infirmities attendant advanced age insisted on personally extending his felicitations.

The party was arranged by Mrs. Albert Mattson, Mrs. Harvey Potvin, Mrs. George Lamberg, Mrs. Elmer Holm and Mrs. Peter Standing.

Sale Of Intoxicants Led By Wine Boom

LANSING—(P)—Led by a booming market in wines, the sale of intoxicants by the state liquor control commission climbed in May.

The commission said case sales were 13.6 per cent higher in May than a year ago, and that the net dollar volume was up $320,000 to $8,946,010. However, sales to date for the year are down about $3,000,000.

The higher increase in case sales compared to dollar volume was attributed to heavy sales of the cheaper wine, probably in anticipation of a price rise when a new state law takes effect.

Whiskey sales rose 1.64 per cent in May, compared with 55.36 per cent for wines.

At the same time the commission reported its inventory had been shrunk 10.13 per cent.

New Walls At Paper Mill

Unusual Project Now Underway

A repair project, somewhat out of the ordinary in its nature and on a large scale, is underway at the Manistique Pulp & Paper company mill.

The old, temporary, wooden wall, dating back to the time the mill was built in 1919, is being replaced by stone and mortar.

Resting on a concrete footing, extending down to bed rock, the wall will rise vertically to almost forty feet and will be about 450 feet long.

The construction is unusual since block walls are seldom laid to the height of this one. Over 18,000 light weight slag blocks will be used to complete the structure besides many yards of gravel and bags of mortar cement.

Reinforced in every direction to withstand constant vibration from heavy machinery as well as expansion and contraction from extreme temperature changes, the wall will be much stronger than ordinary block walls.

Cross-cross steel grids laid into the mortar every second course of blocks provide horizontal and lateral strength.

The pilasters extending out from the face of the wall house the steel I-beams supporting the roof trusses. Here the wall is tied to the I-beam with special metal hooks.

The blocks in the pilasters are filled with concrete and reinforcing rods set upright in this concrete provide vertical strength.

Bark River Area Program Planned

BARK RIVER—An extensive summer recreation program for boys and girls of Bark River, Perronville, Wilson and Schaffer will be launched next Monday, Supt. Leo Brunelle said today.

It will be under the direction of George E. LeBrasseur, graduate of Western Michigan college of Kalamazoo who will coach Bark River high school next year.

LeBrasseur, one of the finest athletes ever produced at Nanna high school and a track star at Western Michigan college, will be a full-time recreation director.

Meeting Monday
On Monday, he will meet with all boys and girls interested in recreation at baseball diamonds in the following communities: Schaffer, 9 a. m.; Perronville, 10:30; Wilson, 1:00 and Bark River, 2:30.

"It is the aim of the program to provide recreation activities for all age groups," said LeBrasseur. "At present, a league will be formed between teams from the communities. The league will include boys from 12 to 17. Another league for boys from 9 to 12 will be formed if enough interest is shown."

These boys will receive instruction in fundamentals of baseball, mainly throwing, hitting and running.

"A softball program is being planned for the girls. If there is a large turnout, games will be scheduled with girls of other teams of the area."

Swimming Here
Two afternoons a week will be set aside for swimming and children from 7 to 14 will be furnished transportation to Escanaba in school buses. The buses will pick the children up at their homes.

A story hour will be held once a week for children from kindergarten to the fourth grade. Stories will be read by women in community interested in recreation.

A complete schedule of events will be published in the Daily Press soon.

Two One-Hitters In Central Loop

(By The Associated Press)
Two one-hitters took the spotlight in the Central league last night.

One, fashioned by Grand Rapids veteran Lou Prempas, set back the Flint Arrows 3-0 and enabled the Jets to cut Flint's league lead to five games.

The other, credited to southpaw Dick Libby of Charleston, gave the Senators a clean sweep of a double-header with Saginaw. Charleston posted 5-3 and 3-0 victories.

Both performances were spoiled by fluke hits.

Third Baseman Oscar Khederian popped a Texas-leaguer that fell just out of reach of the Charleston outfielders with two down in the first inning. After that Libby retired 25 men in order.

The sole hit registered against Prempas came in the eighth when Ray Cabanaw's grounder took a high hop over the head of first baseman Ev Robinson.

The league's other game last night saw last place Muskegon beat Dayton 11-3.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—After each tremendous outburst of major league baseball scoring—and there have been some dillies lately—you can hear talk about a "rabbit" ball . . . Some pitchers even have claimed they can see its ears . . . But National league prexy Ford Frick just snorts: "Ridiculous! I'd say poor pitching accounts for those scores . . . Specifications for the official baseball haven't been changed since about 1922. I suppose the manufacturers test their products regularly." . . . Frick's theory is that every change in the baseball rules in 20 years has favored the hitters.

Corn Off The Kobs
One day this spring, Ted Maupin, Michigan State first baseman, skipped baseball practice to play a little golf . . . Ted cooked up a nice little story for Coach John Kobs about the need for extra study and took off for the links . . . All he did was make the first hole-in-one of the season and get his feet plastered all over the local papers and radio . . . Next day Maupin was mopey around, certain he'd be bounced from the squad, but Kobs wisely played deaf and blind . . . Like Joe McCarthy, John finds it easy to get along with a .300 hitter.

Shots And Shells
Since setting that record of 13.5 seconds for the high hurdles, Southern California's Dick Attlesley has averaged slightly over 13.9 for each race . . . Al Cicotte, who pitches for Norfolk, Va., in the Piedmont league, is a nephew of Eddie Cicotte, the White Sox immortal . . . Possible substitution by the football Yanks next fall will be Bob Kennedy for Bob Kennedy . . . One Bob, a four-year-veteran from Washington State, is a good offensive back; the other, second-year man from North Carolina, was the L. A. Dons' top defensive back last season.

Yanks Gain On Tigers With Win Over Indians

Joe Dimaggio owns 2,000 big league hits today and Stan Musial has 1,500.

Each slugger attained his immediate goal last night but Dimaggio was by far the more satisfying.

Joe collected two hits to drive in three runs and lead the New York Yankees to an important 8-2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. The victory coupled with Washington's 4-2 victory over Detroit boosted the Yankees to within one game of the American league-leading Tigers.

Stan slammed one hit—a home run—but it didn't prevent the New York Giants from gaining their first victory of the season over his St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2. The defeat knocked the Cards out of a first place tie with Brooklyn.

The Dodgers thrashed the Cincinnati Reds, 6-2, to take a game lead over the Red Sox and Philadelphia Phillies, third in their respective leagues, gained some ground. The Red Sox triumphed over the Chicago White Sox, 5-3, while the Phils topped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3.

The St. Louis Browns, behind Ned Garver, shut out Lou Brissie and the Philadelphia Athletics, 1-0. The Chicago Cubs won a 10-inning struggle from Boston's Braves, 4-3.

Dimaggio now joins 41-year-old Luke Appling of the White Sox and 40-year-old Wally Moses of the Athletics as the only active performers with 2,000 or more hits. Appling, now in his 20th season in the majors, has 2,733 hits. Moses, in the 16th year, has 2,064 hits. Dimaggio, 35, is in his 12th active year. Ty Cobb, one of baseball's immortals, holds the record for base hits with 4,191 in 24 years.

While the Yankees were rapping four Cleveland flingers for 12 hits, Lefty Ed Lopat was limiting his "cousins" to seven. It was Lopat's eighth triumph of the campaign, his third without a loss to Cleveland.

Little Chico Marrero stopped the Tigers with four hits in registering his second triumph over them. The Giants beat the Cards on Wes Westrum's four-bagger in the eighth. Righthander Sheldon

Jones gained credit for ending the Cards' 10-game winning streak over the Giants, six of them this year.

Brooklyn collected only six hits against three Cincinnati hurlers but half of them were home runs. Gil Hodges was the most productive, coming with the bases loaded to highlight a six-run third inning.

Righthander Ellis Kinder and first baseman Walt Dropo combined their talents to lead the Red Sox to their first triumph in six games. Kinder allowed seven hits for his fourth triumph although he needed help from Mel Parnell in the ninth. Dropo slammed his 15th homer in the fourth with Ted Williams on base.

Boston played under the direction of Coach Earle Combs because Manager Joe McCarthy was down with influenza.

Roy Sievers' single in the first inning scored Dick Kokos from second with the only run of the Browns-Athletics game. A single by Hank Sauer, his fourth hit, scored Bob Ramazotti in the tenth to give the Cubs a victory over the Braves.

Russ Meyer of the Phils chalked up his first victory of the season after six setbacks. He limited the Pirates to six hits and struck out five.

The 129 qualifiers today tee off for 63 berths. Snead, as defending champion, is exempt from the trials, but he will shoot with the boys. Anyway, Match play begins Friday and concludes next Tuesday.

Many an experienced pro believes this may be the time for an unknown to break through for the prestige title and the cash jackpot distribution of $40,000.

"This course is made for Snead," said Dutch Harrison. "He will be using a 7 iron on his second shot while we will be trying a 4 or 5. He is a shoo-in if he gets by his first two 18-holes of match play."

But others foresaw a little-known pro knocking Snead out early, although his is long off the tee, Sambo's putter is said to be acting up again, jeopardizing his No. 1 ranking for the meet.

The Scioto course so far has related to the par-busters. Lloyd Mangrum who has won $8,100 in prizes so far this month, displayed five birdies and an eagle in fashioning a practice 67, five under par. Henry Picard of Cleveland, 1939 champion, canned a 249-yard hole-in-one with a brassie on the tough No. 14. He finished with a 69.

His 150.7 performance in the 380, best collegiate time for the event this year, was exciting all the way. Trailing with 110 yards to go, he opened up on Bob Chambers of Southern California and Ohio State's Len Truex to break the tape two yards in front. Gehrman was only 1½ seconds away from equalling the world record, 1:49.2; set by Sid Wooderson of Great Britain 12 years ago.

Charles Peters of Indiana bettered the American record for 220 yards around a turn. He won the event in 2:11. The mark was set at 21.2 in 1933 by Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette.

Three other meet marks were shattered—in the shot put, by Otis Chandler of Stanford, with a toss of 56 feet 1 3/4 inches; by Dick Attlesley, of USC, who scissored the 120 yard high hurdles in 13.8 seconds and by Don McEwen of Michigan, who, running methodically, copped the two-mile event in nine minutes, 6.9 seconds.

Attlesley also won the 220 yard low hurdles in 23.2 seconds. He and Gehrman were the only double winners.

Gehrman won the mile in 4:11.1. The earliest known printing about America is the Columbus Letter, printed in 1493, a two-leaf news sheet announcing the discovery of the islands of the Indies to the Spanish court.

Fred Saigh, owner of the Cards, insisted Danny signed with the proviso he would be paid "according to his proved ability" and he simply failed to make the grade.

Whether there is further obligation on the part of baseball, growing out of last fall's settlement of Gardella's $300,000 suit, remains a mystery.

Baseball officials contend there was no "deal," that Gardella came back to baseball for nothing more than a chance to prove himself. Gardella said in Houston last weekend he was "paid something" to drop his litigation.

The outfielder was one of a score of major leaguers banished in 1946 for jumping to the Mexican league. Shortly afterwards he resumed baseball, charging the reserve clause violated the anti-trust law and deprived him of a livelihood.

The suit was dropped four months after baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler lifted the suspension on Mexican league jumpers.

Has Snead Lost "Keys To Safe?"

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A murmur made the rounds at the Scioto country club today that Sam Snead "had lost the keys to the safe," meaning the top favorite was slipping as qualifying rounds of the mid-century PGA golf championship opened.

Despite subpar shooting in practice sessions, Snead was finding trouble with direction. The Virginia hillbilly and No. 1 money winner will be defending his crown.

The 129 qualifiers today tee off for 63 berths. Snead, as defending champion, is exempt from the trials, but he will shoot with the boys. Anyway, Match play begins Friday and concludes next Tuesday.

Many an experienced pro believes this may be the time for an unknown to break through for the prestige title and the cash jackpot distribution of $40,000.

"This course is made for Snead," said Dutch Harrison. "He will be using a 7 iron on his second shot while we will be trying a 4 or 5. He is a shoo-in if he gets by his first two 18-holes of match play."

But others foresaw a little-known pro knocking Snead out early, although his is long off the tee, Sambo's putter is said to be acting up again, jeopardizing his No. 1 ranking for the meet.

The Scioto course so far has related to the par-busters. Lloyd Mangrum who has won $8,100 in prizes so far this month, displayed five birdies and an eagle in fashioning a practice 67, five under par. Henry Picard of Cleveland, 1939 champion, canned a 249-yard hole-in-one with a brassie on the tough No. 14. He finished with a 69.

His 150.7 performance in the 380, best collegiate time for the event this year, was exciting all the way. Trailing with 110 yards to go, he opened up on Bob Chambers of Southern California and Ohio State's Len Truex to break the tape two yards in front. Gehrman was only 1½ seconds away from equalling the world record, 1:49.2; set by Sid Wooderson of Great Britain 12 years ago.

Charles Peters of Indiana bettered the American record for 220 yards around a turn. He won the event in 2:11. The mark was set at 21.2 in 1933 by Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette.

Three other meet marks were shattered—in the shot put, by Otis Chandler of Stanford, with a toss of 56 feet 1 3/4 inches; by Dick Attlesley, of USC, who scissored the 120 yard high hurdles in 13.8 seconds and by Don McEwen of Michigan, who, running methodically, copped the two-mile event in nine minutes, 6.9 seconds.

Attlesley also won the 220 yard low hurdles in 23.2 seconds. He and Gehrman were the only double winners.

Gehrman won the mile in 4:11.1. The earliest known printing about America is the Columbus Letter, printed in 1493, a two-leaf news sheet announcing the discovery of the islands of the Indies to the Spanish court.

Fred Saigh, owner of the Cards, insisted Danny signed with the proviso he would be paid "according to his proved ability" and he simply failed to make the grade.

Whether there is further obligation on the part of baseball, growing out of last fall's settlement of Gardella's $300,000 suit, remains a mystery.

Baseball officials contend there was no "deal," that Gardella came back to baseball for nothing more than a chance to prove himself. Gardella said in Houston last weekend he was "paid something" to drop his litigation.

The outfielder was one of a score of major leaguers banished in 1946 for jumping to the Mexican league. Shortly afterwards he resumed baseball, charging the reserve clause violated the anti-trust law and deprived him of a livelihood.

The suit was dropped four months after baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler lifted the suspension on Mexican league jumpers.

Continuing their program of playing at least two games a week, the Escanaba Bears travel to Rapid River tonight for a twilight game with the Bay de Noc league team.

Tonight the Bears hope to end the "jinx" that has accompanied their attempt at extra-league games.

Their first game with Rapid River was washed out by wet grounds. Trenary failed to show up on another mid-week date. In the two extra-league games that they did play, the Bears didn't fare too successfully.

They lost a 13-inning game to Berk P. . . in their first attempt . . . were held to a 4-4 tie in their second meeting with the Bears.

Hiltonen To Pitch
So they hope for "better things" tonight at Rapid River.

But if Rapid River tosses their star hurler, Dale Gibson, at them, the Bears may not fare too well again. Gibson, high school student, has turned in some excellent pitching jobs this year against Bay de Noc league teams and has defeated Gladstone Redskins in the Rainbow league. He'd like nothing better than add Escanaba to his list of victims.

Joe Rademacher is expected to take his turn on the mound in the Bears' league game Sunday so Russ Hiltonen, young speedball artist who recently joined the Bears, is likely to start against Rapid River tonight.

Spartan Quartet In NAAU Meet

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Four Michigan State track stars, Bill Mack, Warren Duetzler, Horace Smith and Jesse Thomas will carry the Spartan colors in the national AAU championships at College Park, Md., Friday and Saturday.

The Mack, Duetzler, Smith trio accounted for all except one of Michigan State's points in the NCAA meet at Minneapolis last weekend. Bob Carey's shot put mark of 51' 3 7/8", setting a new MSC varsity record, accounted for the Spartans other point in the national college meet.

Bill Mack, third place winner in the NCAA mile, will enter the 1500-meter event in the AAU championships along with teammate Duetzler. In addition, Duetzler has filed entry for the 3,000-meter steeplechase event. Smith and Thomas will compete in both the high and low hurdles.

The NAAU meet will close the collegiate track careers for Mack and Smith. Duetzler and Thomas, as juniors.

Resorts Expect Record Business

Prospects Bright For Middle West

NEW YORK—With the expectation that more Americans than ever will go on vacations this year, resort owners are looking forward to a booming business, says Business Week.

The magazine says that nearly half the U. S. population will be vacationing this summer. They will stay an average of two weeks and spend the biggest vacation total in history—a colossal $6-billion or $7-billion.

More Advertising

Nevertheless, in spite of the boom, some resort owners may not do as well this year as they did in 1948 or 1949, says the publication. Major reasons are: first, as the number of vacationists has grown over the postwar years, so has the size of present resorts and the number of new ones; second, the more aggressive advertising of some areas—notably Florida—has pulled people away from other areas; and finally, the vacationing public is a lot more budget-minded than at any time since the lush war years.

"But there's more than enough on the bright side to offset these factors," the article notes. "The main thing booming vacations this year, of course, is the general business prosperity. On top of that is the fact that more people have automobiles today than at any time in history—and 85 per cent of all vacationers travel by auto."

Indication of the great number to "hit the road" this summer can be gleaned from the American Automobile Association report. In 1949 vacationers drove 150-billion passenger miles, says the AAA, and so far the number of travel routings prepared for members is already running from 10 to 20 per cent over a year ago. Greyhound Corporation expects increased business and United Air Lines says that vacation and pleasure-travel bookings have been twice as great through May of 1950 as during the entire year of 1949.

Outlook by Regions

Here's the way the summer stacks up for various parts of the nation, as BW sees it:

The East—Florida will show a bigger rise in business than any other state because of its big publicity campaign. In New England, the resort people are gloomy because food and labor costs have taken a big jump. Nevertheless, resort business here, as every place else, is sure to have a bang-up year—although possibly less than in some other areas.

The Midwest—The northern states in the Midwest will break all vacation records this year. In some spots, advance queries for information are 40 per cent or 50 per cent higher than they were last year. One reason for the big surge is that—unlike those in New England—Midwest resort owners have done a lot of big-scale modernization.

The West—This section of the nation is benefitting most from the back-to-nature trend. There's a notable shift away from the more populated areas like Estes Park and Taos to remoter spots. Colorado expects a rise in the number of visitors this summer. Dude ranches are trying to cut down some of the extras to meet the trend in keeping vacation

ONE STORM DID IT ALL—A huge gully that would have taken years of normal erosion to create was ripped through a level field near Natrium, W. V., by one furious rain and wind-storm. Soil conservation officials measured the gorge at 320 feet long, 100 feet wide and 60 feet deep in spots.

Perkins

Birthday Party

PERKINS—Gust Klien, jr., of Perkins was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party held at his home. Canasta was played and lunch served. Board Election

The Baldwin township school board has elected Fred Reese, president; G. J. Depuydt, secretary and Emil Norden, treasurer. Other trustees are N. J. Sharkey and Floyd C. Fuhrman.

Birthday Anniversary

Joseph LeBresh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew LeBresh celebrated his 9th birthday anniversary recently at a party at his home. A party lunch followed outdoor games.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Nichols have moved to Norway where he will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Drossart of Green Bay and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Desury of New Franklin, Wis., spent the weekend at the Andrew LeBresh and Jule Drossart homes.

Mrs. Charles Delmont and family spent the weekend at Little costs at a minimum.

The Pacific Coast—California's business is expected to be as big as last year's. Resort owners have done a lot of modernization, and in order to get their money back they have been plugging packaged vacations for almost every purse. In the Pacific Northwest, vacation travel will be either about even with last year, or a little better.

And away from home, Hawaii, Alaska and Canada also are expected to benefit from our vacation boom. All expect a greater influx of American travellers than in 1949. Canadians are especially optimistic since Americans are budget-minded this year and it's cheaper to have a vacation in Canada than anywhere else away from your own house.

Mrs. Mae Miljour spent the past week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Denham Johnson in Escanaba.

Miss Margaret Peterson left Sunday for Margaret to attend the summer term at Northern Michigan College of Education.

Marilyn Fournier has gone to Lansing to attend a meeting of the state board of beauty operators.
